The leaders said they promised the President speedy action.

Asks Hands-Off Whites In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations issued a hands-off-whites appeal to the rulers of the Congo's pro-Lumumba territories today.

The deportation and death of six Lumumbist politicians, closely paralleling the fate of ex-premier Patrice Lumumba, produced anxiety here that Lumumbist leaders of Oriental and Kivu provinces may unleash bloodbath reprisals against Europeans.

3 Major Airlines Shut Down

By PIERCE LEHMECK
NEW YORK (AP)—Three of the nation's largest airlines were shut down completely today as a result of a flight engineers' wildcat strike that has caused the greatest tieup in American aviation history.

Three other airlines enarled in the five-day-old walkout were continuing to operate — at least through the day — with drastically reduced service.

Trans World Airlines, American Airlines and Eastern Airlines have halted operations for the duration of the strike, with 84,000 employees slated for layoffs.

Pan American World Airways and National Airlines maintained token service. Western Airlines, (Continued On Page Seven)

DIG UP $46,000

UNDER GARAGE OF

RELIEFERS' HOME

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — A retired railroad switchman and his wife, both hospitalized at public expense, were named in attempted relief fraud warrants Monday after officers dug up more than $46,000 in cash buried beneath the garage at their home.

The warrants, charging attempt to defraud the Kenosha County Welfare Department of $2,206 — representing medical expense since mid-January — named Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson, aged 72 and 68, respectively.

Mrs. Vivian Newton, assistant district attorney, said officers had unearthed two fruit jars beneath the floor in the Peterson garage. The jars contained $46,594 in cash, including several $1,000 bills and other bills of large denominations. In addition, $120 was found in a baking powder can behind a bookshelf in the Peterson living room.

FINDS WRECKED PLANE—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson stands beside the wreckage of his plane which crashed near his ranch at Johnson City, Tex., killing the pilot and co-pilot, the only two persons on the plane.

"I think now that we are going to have full steam ahead," House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., told reporters after the breakfast meeting of House and Senate leaders at the White House.

The top measure on Kennedy's program is already getting consideration in the House Ways and Means Committee. This bill would extend unemployment compensation benefits for idle men whose jobless pay had expired by last October.

The next three items among the President's proposals are additional federal aid to the dependent children of unemployed fathers, improvements in Social Security benefits and a $390-million bill for aid in redeveloping depressed areas.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said of matching importance will be a general farm message, proposed changes in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's budget, and water and (Continued On Page Seven)

Kitty Hawk, Longest Ship Puts To Sea

By LOUIS UCHITELLE

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The longest carrier Kitty Hawk, the super-ship afloat, put to sea today for the first time and shipping on the busy Delaware River was halted so she could pass.

The 60,000-ton aircraft carrier eased from her berth at the New York Shipbuilding Corp. yard across the river from Philadelphia shortly after 6 a.m. and began four days of trials to test her engines and operating equipment.

The Kitty Hawk is 1,047 feet in over-all length and 262 feet wide. The river channel is 400 feet wide and the Kitty Hawk needed every foot to maneuver on the 59-mile trip to the mouth of the Delaware. The $250-million Kitty Hawk's 108 jet and propeller-driven craft will include two-engine A3D jet bombers, and eventually the larger A3J Vigilante attack bombers. The Navy says her catapults and four acres of flight deck will be able to launch and land even larger planes.

The Kitty Hawk—named for the North Carolina town where the Wright brothers flew the first power-driven plane—is the first warship in U.S. Navy history without conventional mounted guns.

The ship is the first aircraft carrier to use surface-to-air guided missiles for protection. Launchers built into the stern of the ship can fire Terrier missiles at a rapid clip against attacking craft. The pencil-like, 15-foot long Terriers have homing devices of unerring accuracy.

The Kitty Hawk will be commissioned on April 29. After a shakedown cruise, the carrier will join the 7th Fleet in the Pacific.

As Weger Dozes—

Show Blood-Stained Clothing Of Victim

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—Slivers of wood, bits of twine and ripped, blood-smeared clothing were presented for identification at the murder trial of Chester (Rocky) Weger Monday.

Weger appeared to doze as the prosecution presented physical evidence to Circuit Court in LaSalle County Court House. The state is seeking the death penalty for the former Marine accused of fatally beating three socially prominent women in Starved Rock State Park March 14.

Dr. Edward B. Kibuka, director of the Michigan State Crime Laboratory in Ann Arbor, identified blood-stained clothing as that worn by Mrs. Edith Oetting when her skull was shattered.

Dr. Kibuka said the location of the blood stains indicates the woman was seated when she was slain in an isolated park canyon. He seated himself on the courtroom floor to demonstrate what he termed her probable position.

The garments — including underwear, stockings, a blouse, skirt, jacket and scarf — also were identified as Mrs. Oetting's by John P. Saich, supervisor of the Illinois State Crime Laboratory in Springfield.

He identified a tree limb, binoculars and a battered camera which the state contends Weger used to slay the three women after an abortive robbery attempt. Saich said human hairs were found on all three instruments.

Dr. B. Francis Kukacha of Madison, Wis., a chemist for the U.S. Forest Products Co., testified a sliver of wood found in Mrs. Oetting's skull might have come from the tree limb. Both are white oak, he said.

The state, offering physical evidence it sought to qualify as pertinent to the case, introduced testimony to bolster its contention that Mrs. Oetting's hands were bound with twine from the kitchen of the park lodge where Weger worked.

Edward Werham of a Chicago wholesale grocery firm said the strands are similar to twine his company sold the lodge. James Duggan of Louisville, Ky., a cordage dealer, testified he sold the twine to Werham's firm.

Weger, a 21-year-old father of two, has repudiated statements made in November in which he admitted killing Mrs. Oetting. Mrs. Frances Murphy and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, wives of Chicago businessmen.

He is being tried for the death of Mrs. Oetting.

Soldier Clings To Ledge Six Hours; Rescued

ANCHORAGE, Alaska. (AP) — A soldier has been rescued after clinging for six hours to a ledge overhanging the Eagle River in the Chugach Range.

An Army spokesman said Spec. 4 James F. Miller, 21, Evansville, Ind., suffered a sprained ankle and cuts and bruises in falling and sliding 200 yards down an ice slope to the ledge. He is stationed at a Nike firing site above the ledge.

Miller's fall was stopped by deep snow. He was inches from a 300-foot drop almost straight to the river.

The accident took place as Miller and Pfc. Delbert Harris, Seymour, Ill., were returning Sunday from a camping trip. Harris, 20, of Porterville, Calif., fashioned a rope from two blankets and dragged Miller to safety. Miller returned to duty today.

Urges Bill To Provide Aid For 30,000 Jobless

CHICAGO (AP) — Legislation to provide emergency unemployment benefits for an estimated 30,000 jobless persons has been proposed by a labor representative of Gov. Otto Kerner's special advisory board on unemployment.

Harold A. Katz, special counsel for the AFL-CIO in Illinois and a member of the nine-man advisory board, said Monday the group should prepare proposals for the state legislature to help persons whose eligibility for jobless benefits has expired since Oct. 31.

Katz told a board meeting the proposed legislation should recommend giving an unemployed person half of his weekly salary regardless of the number of dependents. Maximum unemployment benefits in Illinois currently range from $32 a week for a single person to $50 for a person with four dependents.

Katz termed the state's jobless benefits among the lowest in the nation. The 50 per cent formula for benefit payments, Katz said, was proposed by former President Eisenhower, while President Kennedy has suggested payments averaging two-thirds of the claimant's weekly average salary.

No action was taken on Katz' suggestions. Management representatives on the board indicated they thought his proposals rather high. They didn't offer counter suggestions.

Japan Offers Food To Hungry In Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Japan today offered hungry Communist China rice and other food as a humanitarian gesture.

Foreign Minister Zenaro Kozaka told a news conference the offer, made through the International Red Cross, had no political motive although the government of Premier Hayato Ikeda is trying to expand relations with Peiping short of diplomatic recognition. Japan has diplomatic ties with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government.

Red China has admitted that 150 million acres were seriously affected in 1960 by the worst natural disasters in a century. Peiping has bought a million tons of wheat and barley from Canada and 300,000 tons of wheat and 40,800 tons of flour from Australia.

Kozaka said it would be up to the Red Cross and Peiping to decide when and how much Japanese food would be sent if the offer is accepted. Unofficial sources said around 100,000 tons of rice might be made available.

Percy Grainger, Noted Composer, Pianist Dies

By WILLIAM BENDER

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—In an age of increasing musical dissonance, composer Percy Grainger had to be considered a conservative.

Yet he was a free spirit, and he displayed it with a colorful personality, sometimes eccentric manners, a flair for the dramatic, and a huge shock of hair that turned slowly from orange red to white.

His death Monday in White Plains Hospital at the age of 78 robbed the musical scene of a man who had once been one of its liveliest members, a world-famous pianist and composer.

He had lived in semi-retirement for years in this New York City suburban community, whose residents had grown accustomed to seeing their neighbor wheeling his luggage from the station in a wheelbarrow or carrying his groceries in a knapsack.

His smaller compositions and tunes, such as "Country Gardens," "Molly on the Shore," and "Handel in the Strand," showed originality. They had one characteristic—they could be whistled.

In 1928 Grainger was married to the Swedish painter and poet Eila Viola Stroom before 22,000 persons in the Hollywood Bowl.

He was born in Melbourne, Australia, July 8, 1882. After a successful career there as a child prodigy he adopted Europe, England especially, as his own.

He came to the United States in 1915, made a sensation at his New York debut and subsequently gave concerts all over the world.

Official quarters declined to release any information on the progress of the inquiry, saying it is too soon to disclose findings.

Hundreds of pieces of debris from the crash scene north of Brussels are being labeled and stored in a hangar at the Melsbroeck military airfield.

Airport sources said the investigators are trying to reconstruct the plane, which crashed on a flight from New York, but results of their findings are not likely to be published for at least six months.

All objects found—including the plane's log and a flight recorder—have been seized for the official inquiry.

The French daily L'Aurore suggested that the accident might have been caused by a passenger running amuck with a submachine gun.

"This is highly unlikely, and belongs more to the style of a novel than to present-day conditions of international travel with severe luggage checks by customs," an airport official commented.

Floods Threaten—

Snowstorms Hit Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's most severe snowstorm hit the plains of west Texas and southeast New Mexico Monday, isolating some communities and causing widespread traffic tieups.

Flood waters from swollen rivers and streams menaced areas in Iowa, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Alabama, Virginia, Maryland and Florida.

The Southwest snowstorm erupted in freezing temperatures as rain splashed across most of Texas eastward in warm air to the Atlantic Coast.

In Texas, up to 20 inches of snow fell in the small town of Claiborne, near Levelland, where the snow depth was 19 inches. Scores of children were rescued from seven school buses which stalled in the Levelland area.

Lubbock, a city of 128,691, was virtually paralyzed by a foot of snow and Lovington, N. M., was stranded by a 16-inch fall.

Visibility was reported near zero during the height of the storm. Snow mixed with rain fell during the morning in Lubbock, with temperatures at freezing. Fifty students and 15 teachers were forced to spend the night in a school in nearby Woolforth. Roads were virtually impassable.

National guardmen were called to assist highway crews in clearing roads in the storm belt. Thousands of cars were abandoned. Road crews, driving tractors and plows, rescued many motorists. Texas troopers rescued a busload of school children in the Lubbock area and took them to a church. Their parents, getting through the heavy snow on tractors, took them home.

Two traffic deaths in the Lubbock area were blamed on the storm.

Other heavy snowfalls in Texas included 15 inches in Plains, 14 in Denver City and 10 in Morton. In Hobbs, N. M., the fall measured 9 inches.

Should Food To World's Needy Have U. S. Tag?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A question being debated in government quarters this week is whether American surplus foods should go to the world's needy bearing a U.S. label or that of an international agency.

For some years, American food has been going to the hungry abroad clearly marked as being from this country's abundance.

But proposals were made during the 1960 presidential campaign by both President Kennedy and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon that this country join others in a broadened program to raise dietary levels in backward areas.

These proposals suggested that the collection and distribution of such foods be turned over to an international agency.

The matter of returning to an international agency is being discussed by U.S. officials with Director General B. R. Sen of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) with headquarters in Rome. Sen came here Sunday for a series of conferences.

Perfect Following Rough Trip

Manned Flight Appears Near

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An unmanned space capsule survived in apparently excellent condition today in a test of the worst that might happen as an astronaut returns from space.

The spacecraft, differing only in equipment from the one on American astronaut is expected to ride late this year, sped upward at 9:10 a.m. EST from the missile test center, on the nose of a huge Atlas missile.

Forty-three minutes later it was fished from the sea about 400 miles northeast of Puerto Rico and 1,425 miles from the launching pad.

Name Three Astronauts For Final Training

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States today selected three astronauts to begin final training for a manned rocket flight expected in two or three months.

The three are John Glenn, Virgil Grissom and Alan Shepard. Robert Gilruth, Mercury project director, announced the selection at a news conference after the successful firing of a space capsule of the type to be used in manned flight.

Just before noon Robert Gilruth, project manager for the manned space program, told newsmen that reports from the recovery ship indicated that the capsule came through in excellent shape.

The LEO (landing ship) had hoisted the spacecraft's parachute.

There was no immediate word here on what damage, if any, had been done to the capsule as it landed in the Atlantic Ocean.

The aim of the test was to determine what happens when such a spacecraft returns through the atmosphere under the worst possible conditions.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that the Atlas launcher and the spacecraft itself performed satisfactorily.

If the capsule survived with little effects, it will be a tremendous boost to this nation's hope of sending an astronaut into orbit late this year.

The floating capsule was sighted at 9:32 a. m. and the recovery, by helicopter, was made 21 minutes later.

The bell-shaped capsule was aboard the Donner at 10:08 a.m. The spot was about 400 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

The space chamber will be returned to Cape Canaveral within a few days for extensive study to determine how well it survived the jolting journey.

Twenty-five minutes after lift-off, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced: "Preliminary indications are the Mercury-Atlas spacecraft flew the programmed trajectory, hitting a peak altitude of approximately 167 statute miles and landing 100 (Continued On Page Seven)

Negro Demonstrators Put On Bread, Water

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Eight Negro sit-in demonstrators were back on a diet of bread and water today in a disciplinary cell at the York County prison camp near Rock Hill, S. C., where they staged a sit-down strike and refused to work.

Prison officials said they showed no indication of giving up their protest against what they termed overwork and the transfer of one of their companions to the jail.

York County Supervisor J. Ed Allen said the eight consumed second helpings of a meal given them Monday, the first full meal in three days under terms of disciplinary confinement. The other days they received bread and water.

The 8 were among 11 young Negro men who chose confinement at the prison camp rather than post appeal bonds of $100 each on conviction of trespassing at lunch counters for white persons in downtown Rock Hill. One was transferred to jail, two others were on the prison camp sick list. In Atlanta, eight Negro doctors were arrested when they tried to eat lunch in the segregated cafeteria at the Billmore Hotel where they were attending the Atlanta Graduate Medical Assembly.

The physicians, all from Atlanta, were charged with violating Georgia's anti-trespass law and were bound over to the criminal court after a city court hearing. They were allowed to sign their own $100 bonds.

At Nashville, Tenn., police arrested about 30 Negroes staging a stand-in demonstration in front of the downtown Tennessee Theater. They were charged with violating a fire law by blocking an exit.

At Opelika, Ala., trial began in federal court on the Justice Department's request for an injunction to prohibit Macon County registrars from discriminating against Negro voters.

An admittedly illiterate white woman told of a voter registrar going to her home and asking her up while Negroes with high school diplomas testified they made repeated futile attempts to register.

Editorial Comment

The Boiling Caldron

Nobody likes to be insulted, either as an individual or as a citizen of a nation. Nobody likes to hear his country attacked or vilified or disparaged by another nation. The instinctive reaction is to reach for a club, and dispassionate reasoning becomes an unpopular attitude.

That is what is happening today. In recent years, months and days, Americans have been amazed again and again at expressions of dislike and distrust for the United States and its allies—in South America, in Cuba, in the Congo, in the United Nations.

It seems most unfair, for if American history is not a sham, this country has always stood for freedom and the right of the common men of all nations to pursue their individual happiness. This country has fought for those ideals, many Americans have died for them.

All this seems to count for nothing today, as the United States is held up by some as the chief enemy of world peace, the source and symbol of imperialism.

Too often, anti-American or anti-Western riots and revolutions are written off as "Communist inspired," implying that Communists possess some kind of magic, hypnotic charm that can transform quiet, reasonable folk into fanatic anarchists.

Undoubtedly these phenomena of our time are Communist inspired in many, or even most, instances on the surface. But this easy verdict ignores the fact that there are great undercurrents of unrest in many nations of the world. Even professional Communist agitators must first have the powder of human frustrations to work with before they can set off an explosion.

Americans must realize that Castro is not Cuba, just as Robespierre was not France at the time of that great revolution. Neither can the turmoil in the Congo be simply explained as caused by a man named Lumumba.

Robespierre was eventually guillotined, but that did not end the French Revolution. Neither will the death of Lumumba nor the wished-for downfall of Castro solve the problems of those countries.

There is only one revolution going on in the world today, though it takes different forms in different countries. The question is not how this revolution is to be put down, but how it is to be controlled and channeled into constructive and lasting reforms.

The world is like a nuclear pile today, but one which cannot be shut down. It can either be controlled or let run wild. Its energy is vast, and can be utilized either for good or ill.

In their distaste for petty despots, Americans should not lose sight of the underlying causes which have allowed tyrants to come forward. We had our own revolution, and its magnificent results can still hold out hope for nations striving for national expression.

But we have to prove it to them.

'Monday Birds' Carry Gloom To Offices As New Week Dawns

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—How you meet Mondays is a real test of your character.

Nobody in the office has a hard time getting through Friday. It is the last day of the work week, and everybody is perched on cloud No. 9, twitting with joy as he waits for the clock to strike quitting time.

But your office Monday bird differs from the Friday bird. He knows the work week is just beginning, and the freedom of Friday seems a continent away. He tends to chirp a different tune.

Yet it takes different kinds of birds to make any aviary. Probably if you look around your office some of the following types of Monday morning birds will seem familiar:

The late-rising bug crawler—He flutters in on one wing with hollow eyes and disheveled plumage, hangs up his coat and hat, then sneaks down to the corner tavern for an eye-opener.

The puffed-up virago—She is the mother superior of the secretarial pool, and gets in 15 minutes early so she can be sure to catch and bawl out any little stenographer who arrives five seconds late.

The moulting mourning dove—The thought of facing another whole week of labor overwhelms him. He sits, droop-feathered, at his desk, emitting hollow cries, hoping someone will say "Man, you're sick. You ought to go home." No one does. On Mondays no one has any sympathy for the other fellow.

The fear-tufted finch—Burdened with secret guilt, he flits in at 8 a.m., hoping to finish before the boss arrives the report he should have completed the previous Friday.

The double-breasted creeper—"What's good about it?" he rambles like anyone says "good morning" to him. He buries himself in a pile of papers. To this misanthropic human lump all work days are the same. He hates Friday because it gives him the problem of figuring what to do on Saturday and Sunday.

The high-flying kingfisher—The junior executive bounces in as cheerful as a small boy on a pogo stick. "Ah," he burbles, "what a wonderful day. Another golden chance to carve a niche in the hall of business fame."

The busy-fingered magpie—Too lazy to go to the stock room himself, he hops from desk to desk borrowing papers, pencils, typewriter ribbons, scissors, and paper clips to last him through the week. At each stop he also tries to borrow enough money to tide him over until payday.

The triple-crested nighthawk—The office straw boss, frustrated by two days of listening to his domineering wife, enters rubbing his hands with glee. He looks around at the huddled backs of his staff and murmurs, "I hardly know where to begin. Who'll I fly-speak first?"

Recognize yourself? Which Monday bird are you?

This nuisance is particularly offensive on the walks surrounding State street church. Is there any relief?

PROGRESS

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

TOKYO (AP)—Things I've learned about Japanese movie tastes:

You gotta have heart. That's the secret of film success here. "The Alamo" is a big smash in Tokyo. "Spartacus" is a flop. Reason: the former has heart, the latter doesn't.

The hit of "The Alamo" was a puzzle to this visitor, since it has had rough going in the United States. Besides heart, it has three prime elements for Japanese fans: 1. Length; 2. John Wayne; 3. Unhappy ending.

Biggest sensation of Hollywood stars is Audrey Hepburn. You see hundreds of teen-age girls with the Hepburn hairdo. They often buy movie mags just so they can show their hairdressers how they want it done.

Another big factor for film success: music. Movies with haunting themes are big hits. Younger fans know Charlie Chaplin not because of his comedy but because of the "Limelight" theme.

Yet Hollywood musicals usually feature a "Gigi" did no business, nor did "Can-Can." But "Daddy Long Legs" was a hit. Why? It had heart.

James Dean still lives in Japan. His pictures play the provinces and the movie magazines feature spreads on Dean.

The big lesson of the Japanese is not sure-fire in Japan. Sources here say a lot of Japanese were fed up with Christian teaching during the occupation. This could mean trouble for the upcoming "King of Kings" and "Greatest Story Ever Told."

Many Japanese teen-agers are favoring the French films, which are offering bright young performers. They are tired of middle-aged Hollywood stars. Only American newcomers to catch on here is Sandra Dee.

Movies about Japan usually flop. "Sayonara" did so, because audiences couldn't recognize it as Japanese.

"Mein Kampf," the documentary about Nazi horrors, has done big business in Tokyo. But so has "The Great Dictator," in which Chaplin took a comic view of the Hitler menace.

Westerners are still the most popular attractions. Brigitte Bardot never caught on in Japan. Nor are the Japanese wild for Monroe, Mansfield or other sex symbols.

So They Say

You have some (labor) leaders and you have some people (in labor movement) who are simply trying to get all their own for themselves and their own groups, without any regard for the good of the country.

U. S. Doctor Found Cures For Typhus, Spotted Fever

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M. D.
Written For NEA

"Is it possible for a man who has never been outside of New Jersey to have Rocky Mountain fever?" asks an overwrought correspondent. "And have you ever heard of 'ricketts' or some such thing that cause this sickness? I can't find the word in my dictionary."

My correspondent's confusion is easily understood. What we call Rocky Mountain spotted fever is an infection with tiny organisms called rickettsia, named for their discoverer, Dr. H. T. Ricketts of the U. S. Public Health Service. Rickettsia are about the size of viruses, that is to say they have to be magnified some 40,000 times before they can be seen in the electron microscope.

Fortunately for us, they cannot ooze through our covering membranes, as do viruses. They're unable to infect us, in fact, unless they're injected into our tissues by a biting insect like a louse, mite, tick or fly. And the biting insect carrier can't transmit a rickettsial disease unless it has first dined on the blood of an infected human patient or, more often, a sick rat, mouse, rabbit or deer.

Now, what's called Rocky Mountain spotted fever was first observed in the Snake River and Bitter Root Valleys of Montana. Here it was originally called tick fever because it occurred only during seasons when ticks are prevalent and, most often, in persons who'd suffered tick bites.

Since its discovery the disease has been observed in eastern states and in distant countries such as South Africa, Italy and France.

Spotted fever, as it's more correctly called, used to be a serious disease. It's featured by chills, high fever and the rash to which it owes its name.

Before its cause was known and isolated and prior to the development of protective vaccines and effective drugs for treatment, it claimed one patient in five. With present methods of treatment, recovery can almost be assured.

Of particular interest to the democracies in this troubled age is the intimate relationship that exists between spotted fever and European typhus fever. The latter is also rickettsial in its origins.

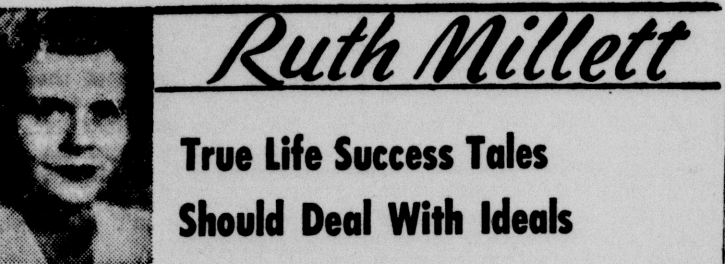

As many veterans of World Wars I and II will remember, it is carried by the body louse. Between 1917 and 1921, while Russia was still suffering the devastations of war and revolution, Prof. Hans Zinsser of Harvard Medical School estimated that "there were probably more than 25 million cases of typhus fever, with 21 to 3 million deaths, in territories controlled by the Soviet Republics."

Just think of how the history of the world might have changed if an American physician hadn't discovered rickettsia and cleared the way to successful control of typhus fever.

If this stirs your imagination, read Dr. Zinsser's "Rats, Lice and History," and learn why he believed that more wars were lost to microbes and their carriers than were won by the military.

DELAYED RESTITUTION

DUNCAN, Okla. (P)—County Treasurer R. E. Montgomery reported receiving $25 in a letter which explained the money had been collected for the county rodeo in 1928. The unsigned letter explained the oversight in not turning in the money had bothered the writer.

True Life Success Tales Should Deal With Ideals

When I was a child growing up in a large family there was a weekly scramble to see which one of us would beat the others to our favorite magazine.

Our eagerness to read it, with its adventure stories, its continued stories, and its articles about famous Americans and how they won their way to success may have caused a squabble now and then. But at least our parents could be sure that in its pages, children would come across nothing that had no place in a family magazine.

Well, times change. And so, apparently, has the magazine. For and they seem each week to dig deeper and deeper down in the same time now its success stories have mostly come out of Hollywood barrel in order to come up with a "success" story.

For my money, the publication hit absolute bottom in the recent issue that attempted to picture as a hero a TV star who:

- Bragged that he is a child "emotionally."
- Bragged about a "neat" trick he discovered in his hard luck days of picking up articles in stores and "returning" them for cash.
- Bragged about out-smarting a traffic officer who flagged him down when he was doing a hundred miles an hour by pretending that he was rushing his pregnant wife to the hospital.
- Bragged about the fun he and some of his playmates on a movie lot had throwing lighter cherry bombs at each other.

● Bragged that "If somebody pushes me so far that I don't have anywhere to go, I'm going to fight with him, and I'm going to get him any way I can. If I rip his ear off or put his tie out, that's the ball game."

In describing the "hero" of this true life success story, the author says of him:

"His favorite mode of dress consists of sneakers and abbreviated shorts, often with the top button undone. His speech is a nearly inaudible, high speed mumble liberally salted with beatnik slang and barracks room epithets. And when he itches in public, he scratches."

The magazine didn't offer that kind of "success" story to young people when I was growing up and it's a shame that it is the kind of character it is playing up to the young people of today.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may someday get political pneumonia from over-exposure in public. But not now. Meanwhile, he is doing a unique job of public relations in the White House.

A president's popularity is always at a high mark in his first few months. So any danger that Kennedy will wear out his welcome must come later.

What is unique is that he is trying to establish as much personal contact as possible with the people on TV, before news cameras and in public statements. No matter what his purpose, he is also providing an education in the presidency.

Last week, for instance, TV showed him in his office conferring with his budget bureau aides and talking on the phone during the Congo crisis with Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson at the United Nations.

Sunday the New York Times' magazine section had four pages of pictures of Kennedy at work in the White House with his assistants, advisers and department heads.

He already has had four televised news conferences, three of these live on TV.

There was no TV in President Roosevelt's time. He couldn't get around much because of his confinement to a wheelchair. His only direct contact with the masses was as a voice over the radio. Thus he had to depend mostly on the magic of his voice to create a sense of himself. His news conferences, which he used for all they were worth to get his ideas across, appeared only in print.

President Truman completely lacked a dramatic sense. He, too, had to depend on news conferences and almost entirely on radio to reach the public directly.

President Eisenhower had TV, which he used from time to time to make statements or explanations. Otherwise, his public appearances were mostly on journeys or on TV news conferences shown hours after they occurred.

Any night of Eisenhower in the White House was usually formal. Kennedy's attempts to make the country conscious of him as an individual and as a president parallels in a way the public appearance technique he used when he represented Massachusetts in Congress.

When he ran for the House he used neighborhood receptions to meet a lot of people personally at one time. He did the same on a statewide scale when he ran for the Senate.

For some years before he sought the presidency he was forever moving around to meet people, individually or in groups, to establish personal contact and build an image of himself as a man for the White House.

He is not running for anything now. But he is trying to establish himself clearly as a leader, particularly when dealing with Congress. If he can line up wide public support, his task with Congress will be easy.

In addition, his activity gives a sense of movement, which is important for him to get across to the vast and slow-moving government bureaucracy.

Kennedy is said to have been greatly impressed by Richard E. Neustadt's book, "Presidential Power." He has brought the Columbia professor into his camp as an adviser on government.

Neustadt went into great detail on a president's public relations and their importance in doing his job. He said: "If he would be effective as a guardian of public standing he must be effective as a teacher to the public."

Neustadt's book is a masterpiece of analysis and a teacher to the public.

K: There Are Wars, And There Are Wars

By PETER EDSON
Written For NEA

WASHINGTON (NEA)—No finer opportunity to read Nikita Khrushchev's recent mind has been furnished in recent years than his Jan. 6 speech to Communist theoreticians. The four-hour harangue is a report on the conference of Communist party leaders from 81 countries, held in Moscow last November.

It is rambling, highly repetitive and filled with Marxist-Leninist gobbledegook. But for the sake of those who would like its principal ideas straight from the Russian bear's mouth, here is a condensation of its most important passages on peace and war in Khrushchev's own words:

"All peace-loving mankind awaited the answer," said Khrushchev, which this Communist conference would give "to the most burning question of the day—how to insure peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems."

"Imperialism," Khrushchev continued, "has created under peacetime conditions a gigantic apparatus of war—a widespread system of blocs, and has subjected their economy to the arms race."

"In modern conditions the following categories of wars should be distinguished: world wars, local wars, liberation wars and popular uprisings."

"Let us begin with world wars. Communists are the most determined opponents of world wars."

"Wars are chiefly prepared by imperialists against socialist countries, and in the first place against the Soviet Union as the most powerful of the socialized states."

The task is to create impassable obstacles against the unleashing of wars by imperialists.

"The picture is now quite different. . . . A mighty socialist camp exists, possessing powerful armed forces. The peoples, by mobilizing all their forces for active struggle against the warmongering imperialists, can indisputably prevent war and thus insure peaceful coexistence."

APT PROJECT

ENID, Okla. (P)—A Lions Club project last year was construction of a lion's cage at the city park.

Small Steaks Can Be Festive Eating

SMALL chuck or round steaks, tenderized in olive oil and deliciously garnished, make for appetizing budget eating.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Editor Assn.
European chefs prepare small steaks, called tournedos, from the narrow end of filet mignon, grill them in butter and serve elaborately garnished.

However, the American cook can make budget Tournedos out of relatively inexpensive cuts, such as chuck or round. The trick is to tenderize them in Spanish olive oil. Chuck makes the most flavorful and tender Tournedos but is less attractive than round. A narrow rolled roast of top round can easily be cut into Tournedos at home. Cut steaks 1 to 1 1/2 inches thick. The smaller the diameter the thicker the steak should be.

To serve, slice steaks diagonally. Budget Tournedos
Cut chuck or top round (or choice grade bottom round) into individual steaks 1 to 1 1/2 inches thick. Punch holes in the meat with a large skewer. Brush with a generous amount of Spanish olive oil and let stand at least 1 hour, preferably 3 or 4 hours.

Fatty in a tablespoon of butter, allowing 3 minutes on each side for rare if 1 inch thick, 5 or 6 minutes on each side of 1 1/2 inches thick.

Or broil 2 inches from heat in preheated broiling oven or over hot charcoal fire, for same length of time. Place each steak on a slice of toasted French bread.

Tournedos Chasseur
Top each steak with a mushroom cap which has been sautéed in butter. Serve with lemon wedges; a few drops of juice are squeezed over meat at table.

Tournedos Hollandaise
Make a quick Hollandaise by combining 1 egg yolk with 1/2 cup prepared mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon butter. Stir over hot water until butter is melted and sauce smooth. Stir in a few drops lemon juice. Serve broiled Tournedos on broiled tomato slices (instead of toast) and top with Hollandaise.

"A word or two about local wars. . . . Certain imperialist circles, fearing that world war might end in the complete collapse of capitalism, are putting their money on unleashing local wars. There have been local wars and they may occur again in the future. . . .

"But a small imperialist war . . . may grow into a world, thermonuclear rocket war. We must therefore combat both world wars and local wars. . . .

"Now a word about national liberation wars. The armed struggle by the Vietnamese people or the war of the Algerian people serve as the latest examples. These wars began as uprisings by the colonial peoples against their oppressors and changed into guerrilla warfare."

"Liberation wars will continue to exist as long as imperialism exists, as long as colonialism exists. These are revolutionary wars. Such wars are not only admissible but inevitable. . . . We recognize such wars, we help and will help people striving for their independence. . . .

"Or let us take Cuba's example. A war took place there, too. But it also started as an uprising against the internal tyrannical regime supported by U.S. imperialism. . . . The Cuban people, under the leadership of Fidel Castro, have won."

"Can such wars flare up in the future? They can. What is the attitude of the Marxists toward such uprisings? It is a most positive one. . . .

"These uprisings must not be identified with wars among states, with local wars. . . . These are uprisings against rotten, reactionary regimes, against the colonizers."

"The Communists fully support such wars and will march in the front rank with the peoples waging liberation struggles."

MISSILE BOOM
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (P)—The booming missile business has made Brevard County, home of Cape Canaveral, the fastest growing county in the United States in the last decade.

The U. S. Census Bureau reported Brevard population rose 370 per cent between 1950 and 1960— from 23,563 to 111,176. Bureau figures show only 13.5 per cent of this growth due to natural increases. The remainder resulted from the test center and the missile industries it attracted.

In its first year of operation, 1960, Cape Canaveral had 850 workers. The most recent count showed 20,100.

Flynn Scores 52
Tom Flynn, former standout in Winchester High basketball circles, broke two scoring records Saturday night in leading Lincoln College to a 118-73 victory over LaSalle-Peru Junior College. Flynn hit 25 points the first half and tallied 27 more in the final 20 minutes of play to break the school record of 50 set by Dick Aery in 1950. Tom's 52 markers also erased the gymnasium mark of 49 set by MacMurray's Gary Little in 1958. The freshman center has been supplying the scoring punch all season and as a result Lincoln has compiled a highly respected 19 win, six loss record.

Stoker Fumes Fail To Rout Council; Action Near On City Plan

The city council refused to be routed by a "gas attack" emanating from the furnace last night.

The council as well as visitors toughed it out while the heating plant staged one of its almost continuous demonstrations.

Strong odor of coal gas pervaded every niche and cranny of the ancient structure. At times there were glistering eyes among the council. A few coughs were heard.

Alderman Scott, chairman of the building committee, said relief is on the way in the form of a new augur for the stoker. The stoker has been giving trouble for some time, getting progressively worse. Gas is forming under the coal and rising into the building.

Members of the fire department can hardly remain in their sleeping quarters, Scott stated.

To Rebuild Chimney
During the meeting the building chairman asked the council to authorize the committee to call for bids receivable next Monday night on rebuilding 10 feet of the chimney at the city hall, to provide better draft for the heating plant.

On Alderman Scott's motion, seconded by Alderman Belzer, the council voted to call for bids.

Several members of the City Plan Commission were in attendance last night, reporting that its members have concluded their study of a comprehensive master plan, based on material furnished by Evert Kincaid & Associates, city planners. The City Plan Commission has recommended that the council adopt the master plan, which deals with numerous phases of orderly community development including subdivisions and zoning.

Would Extend Control
Mayor DuBois urged adoption of the master plan. He said would give the city jurisdiction over subdivisions one and one-half miles beyond the city limits, when passed and officially filed. The mayor also expressed hope that the county will pass a zoning ordinance, to work with the city in community development.

"This is not law," the mayor declared, pointing to the large volume that contains the City Plan. "It is a guide in planning land use and other business of the future, and each phase will be acted upon as it comes up."

Mrs. C. E. Eggenberger and Lawrence Crawford, members of the Plan Commission, addressed the council concerning the long study the Plan Commission has made. They said there are numerous items in the City Plan which should be placed in effect as soon as possible, particularly regulation of subdivisions and zoning.

Defer Action One Week
On motion of Alderman Kane, seconded by Alderman Mathews, the council voted to defer action on adoption of the master plan until next week, to permit the city attorney to prepare a resolution.

The council voted on motions by Aldermen Souza and Scott to authorize City Clerk Phillips to send a letter of appreciation to the Clean Towel Service for its donation of a truck to the newly organized Emergency Rescue Squad.

Guest minister who gave the invocation at last night's session was Rev. Jack Thompson, pastor of the West Jacksonville Parish of the Methodist church.

City Attorney William T. Wilson returned to his duties at the council table after a vacation visit in Mexico.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM CRIT HANELINE, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR IN THE PRIMARY ELECTION TUES., FEB. 28, 1961

Dear Voter:

I have lived in Jacksonville since 1912. The Haneline family has been in this county since 1878. My two daughters were born here and educated in our public school system. My wife and I were married here, she died here and is at rest in Diamond Grove Cemetery. My personal life and my interests are wrapped up in this town and it is truly my home. I have operated my own business here as sole owner since 1933.

I served as an alderman from the fourth ward for four years, from May 1949 to May 1953. During this period I was finance chairman and in this capacity I had a part in every operation of the city administration. During this period the city council was unusually busy due to the building boom, the formation of the new zoning ordinance and the building of Mrs. Tucker's plant. The building of this plant took many hours of the council's efforts for more than two years to work out power, water and sewer services, etc. This was well worth while for it is a fine addition to the industry of our city. I had to become a student of municipal government to be able to function properly in my position. For this reason I feel justified in saying that I am qualified to fill the position of mayor.

I know how the city should be operated. How to furnish adequate services and still keep within a reasonable budget. I am aware of the problems our industry has presented to the city and I am aware of the methods necessary for their solution.

As an individual business owner I will not be called on to take a part in negotiations with the city as an employee of industry for power, water and sewer rates which actually constitutes a conflict of interests.

If you feel that my past experience and present ability qualify me for the office of mayor, then mark my name on the Republican ballot on Tuesday, February 28 next.

Sincerely,
Crit Haneline
(POL. ADV.)

Glasgow Christian Mission Meets At Edwards Home

GLASGOW — The Missionary Society of the Christian Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oma Edwards. Meeting opened with a hymn and with the recitation of the Lord's Prayer in unison. Roll call was answered by naming something about Lincoln. Worship theme, "A More Excellent Way."

Scripture reading was from fourth chapter of Ephesians. The book of Ephesians tells of two kinds of wholeness necessary to Christianity. Mrs. Kate Ward was leader.

Lesson: "Together in Building a Fellowship." To recognize the fellowship based upon a common concern and conviction developing among the "younger" churches, and the fact that they are beginning to point dire actions for the Christians of the world. Leader was Mrs. Evelyn Young. Papers were given by Mrs. Gladys Nix, Mrs. Erma McCullish, and Mrs. Ola Drake. A special vocal duet number, "Precious Memories," was given by Mrs. Lou Adams and Mrs. Ola Drake.

During the business session, plans were completed for the serving of lunch at the Hester asle. During the social hour a Valentine exchange was held with several members receiving Valentines and gifts from their Sunshine Sisters. Each member received a colored snapshot picture of the Mission ladies taken by Mrs. Charlotte Smith before she and her husband left for California. Numbers were drawn for articles from the Country Store. Refreshments were served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Kate Lettice on March 8.

NEW FAN JET—This new type jet engine develops about 40 per cent more power than a conventional type but consumes the same amount of fuel. The GE engine, shown being serviced in San Diego, Calif., has compressor blades in the inner circle which pull a torrent of air (56 tons a minute) into the combustion chamber. The outer circle channels the air to a large fan at the rear. Combined effect of fan and engine produces the radical power increase.

While most deceptive plays are made from the closed hand there are many opportunities to confuse the defense by the right play from dummy.

After North's opening no-trump bid South can use the scientific method and try to get to seven or he can simply leap to six hearts and let West guess the opening lead.

According to Fred Karpin, South decided on the leap, but West was equal to the occasion. He opened the three of spades!

If South could have seen all the cards he would have gone right up with dummy's king, but no one can blame South for playing a low spade from dummy. Fred doesn't blame him for that, but he points out that South played the wrong low spade. He played the five spot!

East thought a long time and finally went up with the queen of spades. When it held the trick, he returned the suit and South was down one.

Fred points out that South should have played dummy's eight. East might still have gone up with the queen, but the chances are that East would have reasoned that South held something like ace-deuce, not jack-deuce of spades and that the nine spot would be his best play.

Regal Rib Roast of Beef

The prince of all beef cuts is the elegant standing rib roast of beef. It's no wonder the family rushes to the table when they know beef rib roast is to highlight the menu. And Dad, experienced or otherwise in the art of carving, knows that his job will be easy due to Mom's advance thinking.

Mom realizes that the first step in preparing a beef rib roast takes place at the market. Just ask the meat retailer to remove the chine bone, making sure that the ribs are completely separated from the back bone. This can be done without trimming off any of the meat and greatly facilitates carving when the roast is ready for the table. When you're ready to roast the meat, place it in an open roasting pan... fat side up. A roast meat thermometer is the most accurate measure of the doneness of the meat. However, if you do not have one available, roast the meat in a slow oven (300° F.) to the desired degree of doneness. In roasting, which is a dry heat method of meat cooking, do not add water or cover the pan. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for a rare roast, 22 to 25 for medium and 27 to 30 minutes for a well-done roast. If a roast meat thermometer is being used, insert it into the thickest part of the roast so it is neither resting in fat or on bone. The thermometer will register the internal temperature of the meat cut. For a standing rib... that's 140° F. for rare, 160° F. for medium and 170° F. for well-done. Allow the roast to set for about 20 minutes before carving for serving. When garnishing the carving platter, remember not to overcrowd. Room must be left for the carver to place the slices of meat. A sharp knife is very important when carving.

If not eaten all at one meal, roast beef lends itself to some delicious leftover dishes. However, when retaining cooked meat for a second-day dish, remember to keep it tightly wrapped and in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

'Get To Work' Program Planned By Labor Leaders

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Leaders of organized labor decided Monday to sponsor a series of get-America-to-work conferences, culminating with a rally in Washington to pinpoint the plight of the unemployed.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council approved plans for the conferences as proposed by the United Auto Workers Union. The meetings are designed to bring together labor, business, civic and political groups to consider steps to spur economic recovery. Dates and sites of the conferences are being worked out.

The council also urged Congress to give emergency preference to President Kennedy's proposed $1.2-billion extra aid to the nation's 51 million idled workers. The council's resolution added: "Congress should then enact permanent improvements in the coverage benefit levels and in the financing of the unemployment compensation program so the terrible lesson in human want that is our legacy from the last recession will not again plague our economic life."

The AFL-CIO chiefs opened a 10-day winter meeting Monday. Many were suggesting a joint demand in behalf of organized labor that business adopt a code of ethics similar to those adopted by labor unions after the recent labor rackets scandal.

The leaders said they intend to bring up the matter at the union sessions here because of the recent pleas of guilty and no defense made by the nation's largest electrical equipment manufacturing concerns to charges of price fixing.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, was asked whether he will propose such a business ethics code when the Kennedy Labor-Management Public Advisory Committee, recently named by the President, holds its initial sessions. Meany replied there will be several proposals, but he declined to spell them out in advance.

Dysbarism? Slot? Aerothermodynamic?—Astronaut Dictionary Explains All

WASHINGTON (AP)—The astronaut made a synergic ascent, adjusting his barber chair to avoid aerobolism.

The can's ambient remained comfortable even after passing the aerothermodynamic border and entering the anacoustic zone. The sunseeker worked well. There was some burping just before the pitchover point but the vehicle continued down the slot.

Later, the astronaut activated his attitude jets, going into braking ellipses which minimized the sacrifice of ablating materials. He experienced only mild dysbarism. That is the language of the space age, a tongue destined to become more familiar once man ventures beyond the earth's atmosphere cocoon.

To help use the language, the Commerce Department Office of Technical Services has published a 75-page "Interim Aerospace Terminology Reference."

To eliminate inconsistent definitions, Air Force researchers prepared the glossary 16 months ago, but it has just now been made public.

To aid in translation of the first three paragraphs above, here are definitions of the pertinent terms:

Astronaut—One who flies or navigates through space.

Synergic ascent—An upward flight designed to give optimum fuel economy with optimum velocity.

Barber chair—An adjustable upright seat which can be converted quickly into a bed so as to increase an astronaut's tolerance of high acceleration.

Aerobolism—An illness that is marked by the formation of gas bubbles in body tissues, something that can happen in a rapid change of altitude.

Can—A container within which the environment can be controlled.

Ambient—Environmental conditions such as pressure or temperature.

Aerothermodynamic border—A point at an altitude of about 100 miles above which the atmosphere is so rarified there is no significant heat-generating friction on the outer surface of a space craft.

Anacoustic zone—The area above 100 miles altitude where sound waves cannot be created.

Sunseeker—A device which keeps instruments pointed toward the sun despite rolling or tumbling of an aerospace vehicle.

Burping—Intermittent burning of a rocket.

Pitchover point—The point in space at which a rocket turns in a direction other than straight up.

Down the slot—A successful flight staying within parallel lines established in advance by safety personnel.

Attitude jets—Gas nozzles which can be operated to change a vehicle's direction.

Braking ellipses—A series of orbital approaches to the earth for the purpose of slowing a vehicle before landing.

Ablating materials—Special materials on the surface of a space craft that can be sacrificed carried away or vaporized, during reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

Dysbarism—Painful distention of the eardrums and sinuses which can occur during descent from space.

Argentina's Sickness Is Legacy Of Dictator Peron

EDITOR'S NOTE—While the new U.S. administration draws up its Latin-American program, AP news analyst William L. Ryan is on a tour of that area to survey the economic situation and the inroads and Communist and Castro movements.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—They call them the Villas Miserias — misery villages.

The fantastic shanty slums which scar many an Argentine city are a political cancer, a symptom of the nation's continuing sickness which is a legacy of wreckage left by Juan D. Peron's dictatorship.

In Buenos Aires alone, beautiful and modern queen city of South America, about a tenth of the population lives a life of squalor in the Villas Miserias. The children are sick with many ailments. Many of the young girls become prostitutes in their early teens. The men are apathetic, don't want to work. In the Peron era they looked to the dictatorship to support them in return for their violent support of the dictator. Now many do little but drink cheap wine.

The government of President Arturo Frondizi knows about the villages, knows their potential for future mischief. But next to nothing has been done. Only one group of volunteer Roman Catholic students in an organization called Emaus is trying to help. And the Communists have moved into at least one of the bigger shantytowns, setting up what they call an "improvement association."

The shantytowns with their confused jumble of tin and wooden shacks, each incredibly crowded with human beings, are a dramatic reminder that while Argentina is convalescing from the ravages of the dictatorship, she is still sick.

An Argentine in robust health, an eager group of Buenos Aires citizens told me, would provide a formidable base from which the United States could seize the offensive in the war of ideas raging now in Latin America. It could do much, they insisted, to throw back the combined forces of communism and Castroism.

But, these Argentines added, the country needs help. "If it takes too much time to get here," an architect in the group said, "it is possible that the forces of the left will be successful. It would be a disaster for the United States and all Latin America if the Frondizi government faltered and failed."

Argentina is one of the most advanced, most sophisticated and most literate countries in Latin America. Potentially it is enormously rich, but the country is far from realizing its possibilities. It seeks help to build highways and provide more plentiful electric power.

But most of all it wants long-term loans to meet the critical housing situation. Even if it had the money today, Argentina would need a minimum of six years to provide even the semblance of a cure. It needs at least two million housing units and probably more, since the population is growing

Sell $4 Million Bond Issue For College Building

CHICAGO (AP)—The State Teachers College Board sold a $4 million bond issue and let contracts Monday for a 10-story student dormitory on the Illinois Normal University campus.

White, Weld & Co., Chicago investment securities firm, bought the bonds at an interest rate of 3.875 per cent. The dormitory project is self-liquidating; public funds are not being used.

The new residence hall will accommodate 716 students, in two tiers for 408 students each. It will be linked to two new dormitories, opened in 1960, by a common dining hall.

The general contract for $2,068,380 was awarded to McCarthy Brothers of St. Louis. Other major contract awards included:

Plumbing, $191,000, George S. Walker, Decatur; heating, piping and temperature control, $301,130, H. P. Reger & Co., Chicago; electricity, $261,750, Hubbard Electric Co., Decatur; food and service equipment, $92,369, Service Equipment Co., St. Louis; built-in furniture, $255,478, Sligh-Lowry Contract Furniture Co., Holland, Mich.; ventilation, $188,206, Johnson Sheet Metal Works, Moline.

The board, which governs the four state-supported institutions for teacher education, also approved preliminary plans for a $3 million residence hall for Western at Macomb. The board authorized the architects, Lankton, Ziegler and Terry of Peoria, to draw final plans for submission to the board at its April meeting in De Kalb.

NEW YORK (AP)—Grandmother's house plants have found a new home.

Around $300 million a year is spent by business firms for flowers and foliage to soften the stark lines of modern buildings or to bring warmth to offices, banks, stores and even to data centers of electronic brains.

Sales for indoor beautification of public or working areas of commercial buildings have jumped 300 per cent since 1954, according to the National Clay Pot Manufacturers Association. Its members supply 150 million clay pots a year to some 12,000 commercial growers.

Retail sales to business have increased much faster than to home owners. This parallels the record boom in commercial and industrial construction in the last six years in such centers as New York, Chicago, Detroit, Dallas, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Pittsburgh and Miami.

The biggest sales growth of all in recent years has been for interior use in such buildings.

Softening the outside lines of modern architecture with plants got a big boost almost 30 years ago from the wide usage in Rockefeller Center in New York City. Much later, plants showed up in volume in the reception rooms, executive offices, and secretarial areas of a long list of the nation's biggest corporations.

One big impetus for indoor planting came with the opening of the Fifth Avenue branch of Manufacturers Trust Co. of New York. Its glass facade revealed to the passer-by a lush interior display of flowers and foliage plants. Since then banks across the country have bought plants by the gross and new commercial buildings have followed the trend.

A New York specialist in large indoor plantings for business and industry, C. Kind & Co., holds that "most architects, decorators and builders are agreed that carefully selected and properly potted live plants are essential to add warmth to modern interiors."

Florida has pushed the spread of plants from home to office. Clay pot makers say potted plants made up one-fourth of all retail florist dollar sales in 1950 and one third in 1960.

But much of the growth in retail sales of plants in recent years has come from the mushrooming of roadside garden stores and self-service plant department in supermarkets and variety stores. The Department of Commerce has potted plants along with bulbs, vegetable and bedding plants as horticultural specialties. Its 1959 figures put the 10 states producing the most of these specialties in this order: California, Pennsylvania, Florida, Ohio, New York, Illinois, New Jersey, Michigan, Massachusetts, Texas.

Recently built structures using plants to enhance interior beauty include Prudential Life Insurance buildings in Houston and Chicago, and Union Carbide in New York.

3 Major Airlines Shut Down

down to four jet flights a day between Los Angeles and Seattle, also continued a token effort. From Miami to Boston and from New York to Los Angeles, many thousands of passengers have been inconvenienced by the walkout of the 3,500-member Flight Engineers International Union.

Airline executives estimated that through Monday night travel plans of at least 125,000 persons in metropolitan New York alone had been disrupted. An estimated 700 flights affecting 35,000 persons were canceled Monday.

Trains, buses and the major airlines untouched by the strike reported a mammoth flooding of requests for reservations.

Among the major airlines not struck are United, Delta, Braniff, Capital, Northeast and Continental.

The flight engineers are protesting a Feb. 6 decision of the National Mediation Board ordering their union and the Air Line Pilots' Association at United Airlines to vote for a single union representing both.

Pilots are in the majority and the engineers say they fear the ruling might mean eventual death for their own union. The engineers have asked a congressional investigation of the mediation board's decision.

All of United's engineers are pilot-trained and some belong to both unions. This is not true of the other airlines.

In Los Angeles, Kansas City and New York, various struck airlines sought contempt citations and filed multimillion-dollar damage suits against the engineers' union. Trans World Airlines asked $3.5 million in a single suit at Kansas City.

In Houston, Capt. Eddie Rick- enbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Airlines, said the decision to stop Eastern's operations was made because of threats to supervisory personnel operating some planes.

Supervisory personnel were used by the airlines in place of flight engineers after the strike began last Friday night. Engineers are required on all four-engine planes and jets.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market churned irregularly in heavy trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 236.80 with industrials up .10, and both rails and utilities unchanged.

The AP average failed to make progress beyond its latest historic closing high made Monday. A considerable amount of profit taking and switching was in evidence.

Most key stocks changed very narrowly.

The tendency was slightly higher among steels and motors. Airlines, lower at the start, steadied as they continued to absorb news of the strike against major airlines.

Aircraft missiles and electronics were a bit on the upside. Rails, utilities, nonferrous metals, oils and tobacco were mixed.

Chemicals and electrical equipments were slightly lower.

Celanese and Ford rose about a point. Polard about .5, and Brunswick, Lukens and Youngstown Sheet more than a point.

Westinghouse Electric dropped about a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .23 at 633.88.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were strong following the federal reserve board decision to reverse the policy of limiting open market dealings to short-term government securities.

C & E Says Two Passenger Units Not Profitable

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad official says two passenger trains between Chicago and West Vienna cannot be operated at a profit.

Patrick C. Mullen of Chicago, the railroad's general counsel, said Monday the trains — Nos. 9 and 10 — lost $116,000 in 1960 despite a 20 per cent fare increase.

Mullen testified at an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing on the railroad's application to drop the two trains. The hearing continued today.

He said alternate public transportation serving generally the same area would be available to persons now using the two trains. He cited the Illinois Central Railroad and Greyhound Bus Lines.

Representatives of a half dozen downstate communities opposed to the proposed discontinuance attended the hearing.

Frank Trobaugh, West Frankfort city attorney, and Frederick E. Merritt, Salem City attorney, contended that Southern Illinois needs the two trains if it is to induce new industry to move into the area.

"To eliminate the only passenger trains passing through many of the towns along the line will hurt instead of help industry," Trobaugh said.

Others listed in opposition to the railroad's application included Mayor Girth N. Hicks of Danville, A. C. Baer, Tuscola city attorney; John Rutledge, Arthur village attorney, and Robert S. Hill, Benton city attorney.

Merritt said the proposed new federal prison at Marion and a possible new area junior college between Mount Vernon and Salem would necessitate more and better passenger service.

BUYING OF BEANS. RYE FAIRLY BRISK

CHICAGO (AP)—Rye and new crop soybean futures attracted a fairly brisk buying support today and moved well ahead after a weak opening on the Board of Trade. Other contracts were steady to easier.

Trade generally was slow and lacking any significant new market factors. Dealers said most of the small volume appeared to be toward evening up positions for the holiday Wednesday.

Further weakness in soybean oil and soybean meal set off moderately heavy liquidation of old crop soybeans in early dealings and they slipped well over a cent in spots but later recovered most of the loss.

Soybeans were 1/2 cent a bushel lower to 1 1/2 higher, at midday, March $2.14 1/4; corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, March $1.13 1/4; oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, March 63 cents; rye 1/4 higher, March $1.18 1/4.

UN May Use Force—Asks Hands-Off Whites In Congo

Shortly before 4 a.m. the 11-nation body rejected an Asian-African resolution condemning atrocities and assassinations in the Congo. That resolution was prompted by the announcement Monday that six associates of slain Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba had been executed in South Kasai Province after deportation from Leopoldville by Premier Joseph Ileo's government.

The resolution failed to get the seven votes necessary for adoption after the Soviet Union, with its 93rd and 94th votes, killed two U.S. amendments aimed to keep Leopoldville, Katanga and South Kasai from being singled out as atrocity centers while Stanleyville, the seat of the pro-Communist Lumumbist regime, went unmentioned.

The final vote was 6-0 for the resolution, with the United States, Britain, Nationalist China, France and Turkey abstaining.

Ceylon, Liberia and the U.A.R. sponsored the winning plan to head off civil war and the losing proposal to condemn the assassinations, with the backing of 17 other Asian-African countries and Yugoslavia.

Kerner Urges Fast Action On Public Aid

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois legislature, returning to work today, got word from Gov. Otto Kerner that fast action is needed on an emergency bill to keep public aid payments going.

The Senate set a hearing on the bill, which appropriates $67.3 million to maintain the aid programs until June 30. After that date, new money will be available from the 1961-63 budget.

Kerner requested Sen. George Drach of Springfield, GOP majority whip, to keep the Senate in session Wednesday so a final vote can be held there this week.

The timetable calls for the bill to be acted on by the House next week.

Kerner advised Drach that poor relief funds are nearly exhausted and that the deficiency appropriation should be made available by the end of next week.

Of the amount sought, about $42.5 million will come from the state treasury and the remainder from the federal government.

The Senate also acted today on a bill appropriating $4,177,000 for a mentally retarded institution at Harrisburg.

Both legislative branches listed committee hearings on other bills.

The Senate conservation committee will take up measures to repeal admission fees at state parks and appropriate $1,211,150 for construction at the Shelbyville and Kaskaskia reservoirs.

Bills dealing with proposed election law changes come before the Senate elections committee.

One measure would stiffen the penalty for fraudulent registrations, making violations a felony instead of misdemeanor.

Another would allow persons who have lived in a voting district 30 days to vote for presidential candidates.

The House agriculture committee has a hearing on a bill providing for a free gate at the State Fair after 4 p.m. daily.

Safety Rules Called Burden To Small Mines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Independent coal mine operators said today extension of federal safety regulations to small mines would create an undue burden.

The operators, including a group from southwest Virginia, appeared at a hearing before a House labor subcommittee on legislation to extend the present regulations to mines employing 14 or fewer workers. Under present law, mines employing less than 15 workers are exempt.

Similar legislation was passed last year by the Senate but not the House.

Stafford Williams, of Grundy, Va., said the southwest Virginia group opposes the legislation because it would be burdensome to the small operator.

Williams said Virginia is opposed to the extension of federal regulations to the small mines on the grounds they would infringe on the state's right to work law.

Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., author of one of the bills up for hearing, said his proposal would lower the exemption from 14 to 8 workers for mines to be federally regulated. For mines with less than 8 workers, regulations would go into effect only after a hearing and upon recommendations by state or Bureau of Mine inspectors.

Dent said prior to the hearing that federal regulations are needed for some of the smaller mines. About 12 per cent of the coal mined in the United States is produced by mines with 14 or fewer workers, yet about 30 per cent of the accidents occur in these small mines, he said.

JFK Labels 16 Bills 'Musts' natural resources legislation.

The other bills on the 16-point list were:

The support and control program for feed grains, increasing the $1 minimum wage, federal aid to education, health care for the aged under Social Security, aid for college education, aid for medical education and research, federal support for expansion of community health facilities, extension of the Government Reorganization Act, ratification of U.S. affiliation with the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, creation of 59 new federal judgeships, establishment of an office of international travel and easing of restrictions on trade with Iron Curtain countries.

Despite Republican opposition to some proposals, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted Kennedy's measures will get speedy action in a Congress about ready to buckle down to work after relative inactivity during the new President's first month in office.

The Democratic leader called the Senate committee chairman to a meeting later in the day to map a program for "adequate and prompt consideration" of the Kennedy program by the Senate.

He noted that the Senate had passed on a voice vote Monday a bill to set up a United States travel service to attract foreign tourists to this country.

The bill would authorize the government to spend $5 million the first year on active travel promotion. The measure is aimed at reducing gold outflow. American tourists spent $1.2 billion more abroad last year than foreign tourists spent in the United States.

Congressional movement was developing on these major items:

1. Education—In the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., gave a go-ahead signal to the federal aid to education program the President sent to Congress Monday.

House Education subcommittee planned simultaneous hearings, probably starting this week, on the school and college sections of the $5.7 billion dollar program.

Mansfield said the Senate will go right ahead with preliminary action on the education program. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he hoped a Senate Labor subcommittee could start hearings next week on the proposal.

2. Emergency unemployment aid extension—The House Ways and Means Committee starts closed door sessions aimed at getting a bill in shape for house action late this week or early next.

A compromise on the financing reportedly smoothed the way for agreement on benefit extension up to 13 weeks.

In the Senate, Mansfield bowed to the views of Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., that the Finance Committee Byrd heads should wait until the House acts before it even holds hearings on the proposal.

3. Aid for depressed areas—Mansfield said he expects to bring a bill for the aid of depressed areas before the Senate next week.

Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., said a Banking subcommittee he heads will wind up hearings on the measure with testimony next Tuesday from Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

4. Social Security—Also introduced Monday in the House was the administration bill to provide optional Social Security retirement for men at 62, higher minimum and widows' payments and easing of requirements for coming under the old age insurance and disability retirement provisions. The cost would be an additional 1/4 of 1 per cent tax on employer and employee.

5. Minimum wage increase—A House Labor subcommittee plans to complete hearings today on the administration proposal to increase the minimum by stages from the present $1 to $1.25 an hour and bring additional millions of employees under wage-hour coverage. Mansfield said he expects decisive action today by a Senate subcommittee on the same measure.

Using her arms to support and guide herself, she swung out for a moment into space, rested her weight for one instant on her right leg, twisted about as best she could, and fell back into the chair. She landed with a jolt, sharply aware of the edge of the chair biting into her flank, but breathless with triumph.

She remained quite still for several minutes, becoming slowly aware of an ominous silence from downstairs. But then, there was a sound quite distinctly from below, and she leaned back with a sigh of relief. After a moment, taking a firm grip on the wheel, she turned around toward the window.

At the drapes, putting her hand to the center where they divided, she lifted the nearest, held it as far as possible away from her chair and, moving forward, let it fall behind.

The bright sunlight assaulted her eyes painfully, and for a moment she was blinded. Blanche opened her eyes slowly, giving them time to adjust. She pulled out the other drape and swung it behind to join the other. She sat for a moment listening to the stillness outside.

The sky, though incredibly blue, was dashed across here and there with wispy white clouds.

Reaching out to the clasp, Blanche opened the window and drew it back. The breeze hurried itself in upon her face, stirred her hair, then fell away into an abrupt and complete stillness.

Revived, Blanche stretched her hand out, grasped the grille and using her cane as a brace, pulled herself up. Straining forward, she peered down into the garden below. It was deserted.

It was possible that Mrs. Bates had made her first visit of the day already, which could mean a long and disastrous wait.

When at last a sound came, she recognized it instantly; even without seeing she was able to trace Mrs. Bates' progress as she opened one of the French doors, came out onto the walk, took up the hose and turned on the water. Taking the note tremblingly from her pocket, she reached out to the grillwork and drew herself up.

Yes, she was there! Mrs. Bates, wearing her smock and her big floppy hat, had already started along the flower beds at the side of the lawn beneath the hedge. Blanche put down forcefully an impulse to cry out, fearful of what unknown horror might befall her if Jane should hear and come upstairs. She let go and dropped back into her chair; she needed to conserve her waning strength until the sound of the water told her that Mrs. Bates was directly below.

Gradually the sound of the water came nearer, until she was certain Mrs. Bates had reached the corner nearest the window. She reached up to the grille.

Mrs. Bates was almost exactly where she had guessed. As the woman rounded the corner, Blanche strained anxiously forward. Holding herself closely to the grille she tried to attract Mrs. Bates' attention by waving the sheet of paper between the bars. Mrs. Bates, however, her face totally hidden beneath the wide brim of her hat, remained concentrated on her chores. Again Blanche needed to restrain herself from crying out. Mrs. Bates' next move brought her almost precisely into position beneath the window. More than ever, though, her face was hidden beneath the brim of her hat. Blanche pressed forward, totally unaware of the cold bite of the bars against her cheek. Reaching the note out as far as she could into the open, she released it.

Mrs. Bates, catching a flash of something white, looked down, saw the note and stooped to pick it up. As she did so she had an impression of a childish scrawl. She started to smooth it out in her hand, but then, hearing her name shouted from somewhere in the direction of the house, she turned, still holding it, and started in that direction.

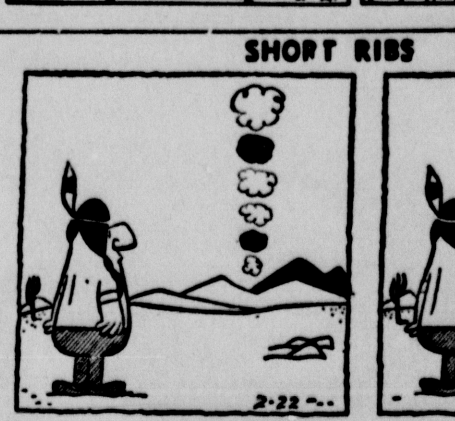

"Out here, Harriett!" she called.

As she approached the house, Harriett Palmer appeared on the walk and, waving something before her, hurried forward.

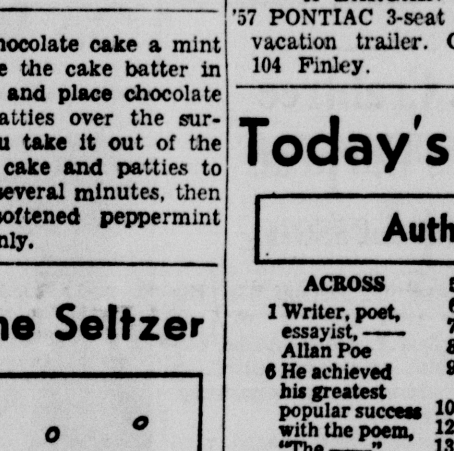

"Have you seen this?" Arriving at Mrs. Bates' side just as she straightened from turning off the water, Harriett held out the paper. Folding it quickly back to the second page, she pointed to a photograph in the upper left hand corner.

South Side Disposal Conference Called To Discuss Changes

A conference probably will be called this week at which changes in technical operation or extension of the South Side disposal plant will be talked by city and state officials, representatives of an industrial firm, engineers, and attorneys.

Mayor DuBois asked the city council Monday night to authorize the meeting, where recommendations of Dr. W. D. Hatfield, consulting chemist of Decatur, and J. Paul Rhoads of the Caldwell-Rhoads Engineering Co., will be considered.

Portions of their reports on how they believe the operation of the disposal plant can be improved, with more adequate facilities for handling industrial waste from the Anderson, Clayton & Co. food processing plant, were read at the council meeting by City Attorney William T. Wilson.

Alderman Belzer, chairman of the sewer committee, led a discussion among councilmen on steps that may be taken to make important physical changes at the plant.

Citizen Delegation Attends
A delegation of citizens who reside in the disposal plant area was present. They are interested in action that will abate noxious odors.

A series of reports during the past several years have recognized the heavy load of industrial waste from the food processing plant as one of the principal factors involved in disposal service. At times the disposal plant load has reached a volume equivalent to the 75,000 population. The city handles waste material from the Anderson, Clayton & Co. plant under an agreement dated May 19, 1962, covering furnishing water and sewage disposal.

Numerous tests and analysis of materials entering the disposal plant have been made during the past two years.

Suggests Two Plans
Dr. Hatfield has suggested two alternatives for solving the problem as follows:

1. The treatment of the industrial wastes by A-C to reduce the maximum loss days to the 30,000 FE figure, with an average loss of perhaps 15,000.

2. Or increase of the capacity of the South Side plant to about 58-60 FE.

J. Paul Rhoads in reporting to the sewer committee by letter said his firm concurs in Dr. Hatfield's recommendation that a study should be made with representatives of the industrial plant of the possibility of pre-treating the industrial wastes before they leave the plant.

On motion of Alderman Burnett, seconded by Alderman Belzer, the council voted to authorize the meeting.

Those expected to attend include Mayor DuBois, members of the sewer committee, Dr. Hatfield, Mr. Rosenberg of the State Sanitary Water Board, City Attorney William T. Wilson, J. Paul Rhoads, engineer, and representatives of Anderson, Clayton & Co.

The mayor indicated that the conference would be arranged as soon as possible, probably this week.

Forestry Work Continues

Turning to other business, the council listened to a report from Alderman DeFrates, chairman of the forestry committee, who said sufficient work has been found to keep the department busy. DeFrates said he has arranged with William Burton, foreman, to secure a list of work projects which will be done each week. Thirty or 35 trees will be removed from along the Town Brook, and a program of planting new trees on boulevards throughout the city will be carried on. Mayor DuBois said the department should devote time to planting each spring and fall.

One section of the city hall roof covered with sheet asphalt is again needing attention, Alderman Scott reported. He asked that bids be taken and opened at next week's meeting. The request was placed in a motion by Alderman Belzer, seconded by Alderman Schulz, and passed promptly.

Alderman Mathews of the finance committee moved for transfer of $4,000 from the motor vehicle license fee fund to the general fund. A second by Alderman Johnson brought passage of the motion.

More Warrants Probable
In reply to a question from Alderman Mathews concerning delinquent wheel tax accounts, Chief of Police Charles P. Runkel said additional cases are being investigated and more warrants probably will be issued this week.

A proposal for combining the duties of the dog officer and weed control officer was introduced by Alderman Kane of the health committee. "A saving of from $350 to $500 annually would be possible if these two jobs were combined," Kane declared.

He said the dog officer's work centers from April 1 to Oct. 1, when the dog ordinance is in effect, and that the weed control officer is employed from May 1 to Nov. 1. The combined salaries of the two officers at present is $3,700. Alderman Kane suggested a salary of $3,000 for one officer.

Mayor DuBois asked the health committee to reach a decision and report to the council.

Says Islands 'Too Big'
Alderman Scott, referring to metal posts which have been set on the east side of The Farmers State Bank to keep cars and trucks from running on the sidewalk as they make the curve west, said the posts are "too far out in the street."

Alderman DeFrates declared that "the traffic islands are a little too big, stating that he had heard several complaints."

To which Mayor DuBois replied that the traffic islands have met with general acceptance and that many expressions of satisfaction have been heard. He said he did not favor reducing their size.

Chief of Police Runkel, when asked by the mayor his opinion of the traffic pattern on the square, said it is working well.

Read Ordinances

First reading was given an ordinance to prohibit parking on the east side of North Clay avenue between State and Court streets, after motions by Aldermen Burnett and Kane. When roll was called by City Clerk Phillips there were two dissenting votes, cast by Aldermen Hooking and Kane.

Another ordinance up for initial reading makes revisions in the traffic ordinance to conform with state regulations. Following too closely and yield right-of-way regulations are included in the new amendment.

School In Firemanships

While councilmen were wrestling with problems in general, members of the fire department in another section of the city hall attended a three hour course conducted by Chief J. W. Eckert, University of Illinois, Division of Extension.

Alderman Johnson, chairman of the fire committee, said classes will be held for seven Monday evenings from 7 to 10 o'clock. In the classes the firemen hear lectures in chemistry of fire, first aid extinguishers, rope work, hose evolutions, fire screens, fire apparatus, ventilation, latter evolutions, and fire tactics.

Student, Adult Art Class Begins At Chandlerville

CHANDLERVILLE—An art class has been organized at the high school and is open to any student in high school, seventh and eighth grade and any adult in the community wishing to further interests in art.

The class meets in the home-making room Tuesday from 3:45 to 5:45 p.m. under the supervision of Mrs. Sidman, wife of Howard Sidman, chairman of the art department at MacMurray College in Jacksonville. There will be 10 class meetings in the course. The first project of the class is drawing their own home, using perspective.

Sunday Class Meeting

The Young Married Couples Sunday School Class of the Chandlerville Baptist church held their monthly meeting and party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stuhmer Friday evening.

Mrs. Eugene Geiss was co-hostess. There were 16 adults and six children present.

Morris Sarff led the devotions. Several games were played and refreshments served by the hostesses.

The next party will be held in March at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Finch with Mrs. Morris Sarff as co-hostess.

TAX CHECKS ARE PAYABLE ONLY TO IRS NOT BUREAU

If you owe additional taxes when filing your 1960 Federal income tax return, be sure to enclose your check or money order made payable to "Internal Revenue Service," District Director Jay G. Philpott of the Springfield office, said today.

In mailing the return, the taxpayer need not address Mr. Philpott by name, but should address his envelope to "District Director of Internal Revenue, Springfield, Illinois."

This is the eighth year in which the tax agency has been known by its present name, despite continued use by some taxpayers of its old title, Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Mistakes Kin For Intruder; Uses Shotgun

JERSEYVILLE—Glen Taylor has returned from Earl, Ark., where he suffered a gunshot injury in an accident the night of Jan. 19 at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy of that locality.

Taylor went to Earl, Ark. in mid-January to visit his relatives, and the night of Jan. 19, he went out on a date with other young people of Earl.

He returned to the home of his relatives about 3 a.m. the 19th of January and opened the door carefully as he entered the house so as not to awaken the family.

There had been several efforts early in the year by parties unknown to break into the Murphy dwelling. When Murphy was awakened by a door "squeaking" he reached for the loaded shot gun he had kept near his bed and cut down on a shadowy figure in the act of closing the outside door.

The load of shot hit Taylor in the right hand. The middle finger was mostly shot away and had to be partially amputated by the surgeon who attended to him after his removal from the Murphy residence.

Taylor reported here Monday that his brother-in-law was under the impression that the former had come home several hours before the shooting accident occurred.

Tells Local Coin Collectors Of Coming Sale

The Morgan County Coin Collector's Association met Sunday afternoon at the American Legion Home in Jacksonville with a large number of area residents in attendance. President George Vasconcellos conducted the business meeting. The club decided to postpone the next meeting until March 26 because of the Gun Club Show which will be held in Jacksonville March 19. A number of coin collectors and dealers participate in the Gun Club Shows.

Art Faucon of Springfield, a leading numismatist of Illinois, told the club of an auction to be held in Los Angeles, Calif., Mar. 3-4. This sale will have some of the world's greatest rarities featured, including an 1804 American silver dollar and an American 1913 Liberty Head nickel.

Many non-collectors know of the rarity of the 1913 Liberty Head nickel and many profess to own such a coin or know of a friend who owns such a coin. Numerous counterfeiters are known to exist. Actually, only five of these coins were minted and all were owned by Col. E.H.R. Green, son of the famous Fifth Green. After Col. Green's death the coins were scattered among collectors and eventually Mr. Edwin M. Hydemann of Los Angeles came into possession of one specimen. This specimen is the one to be auctioned Mar. 3-4 at Los Angeles. A reserve bid of $40,000 has already been placed for the coin.

Bruce Thomson displayed a folder of early American currency which has been preserved in choice condition. One of the bills he displayed was a very fine one dollar note, series of 1896. This note depicts two figures looking upon the city of Washington. The figures, a woman and child, depict "History Instructing Youth." This note is one of a series of bills commonly known as the "educational series."

Several bourse tables and an auction were featured at the club meeting.

Guests present were J. W. Barker and son of Mr. Sterling; Mrs. Colburn, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Yakee and Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Adair of Clayton.

ROYALTY ENJOYS SPICE

LONDON (P)—A sexy Hollywood comedy billed as "the sauciest dish ever" before a quest won the applause Monday night of British royalty.

The film, "The Fats of Life," deals lightly with a married man's vain attempt to commit adultery with his wife's best friend. It stars Bob Hope and Lucille Ball.

It was a pretty daring theme to be chosen for the annual royal film performance. But Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, obviously were delighted.

Beardstown Levee System Assured Of Protective Pumps

Congressman Paul Findley joined with U. S. Senator Everett M. Dirksen in announcing Tuesday that Army Engineers have approved a request for additional pumping facilities as a part of flood control construction being completed at Beardstown, Ill.

The Federal government will complete contracts this spring for the last leg of the levee serving the city of 6,500.

Beardstown was flooded in 1922, 1926 and twice in 1927. In 1943 the worst flood of all occurred when a record river stage of 29.6 feet was reached. Except for emergency workers the City was evacuated. State militia and Army troops however were able to keep the water from flooding the city.

The decision to install additional pumping facilities was made by Major General William F. Cassidy, Director of Civil Works, U.S. Army Engineers. Congressman Findley held a series of conferences with Beardstown Civic leaders in December and January in regard to this project.

The pumps will compensate for drainage and seepage on the interior caused by 301 relief wells which are a part of the levee improvement. The relief wells take pressure off the levee during high river stage, but in doing so bring added water to the interior. Increased pump capacity is an essential part of the Beardstown Flood Protection Project.

The size and cost of the facilities will depend on further studies by Army engineers. A total cost of the Beardstown project is expected to be considerably below estimate, Congressman Findley said.

Arenzville PTA Buys New Flags For School

ARENZVILLE—The Arenzville P.T.A. held the regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening, Feb. 15, at the Home Ec. room, with Mrs. Charles Ater in charge. The meeting opened with the Parent-Teacher Prayer in union.

The P.T.A. has purchased flags for the grade school rooms, and these were presented by Mrs. Charles Schnitzer and Mrs. Warden Stock. The flags were accepted by a representative from each room, including David Beard for first grade, Joyce Ginder for second, Jeff Clark for third; Allen Stock for fourth; Tony Clark for fifth, and Gordon Ginder for sixth. The flag for the gym has been ordered. It was voted to purchase flag holders for the grade school rooms needing one.

Band students from Arenzville grade school presented a musical program with Meredith Beard announcing the following numbers: clarinet solo, "Sentimental Lady" by Sandra Grant, accompanied by Becky Burrus; trombone solo, "Jolly Joe" by Sharon Plunkett; and saxophone solo "Sentimental Lady" by Trudy Schnitzer, with Vicki Manker as accompanist for both numbers.

Cornet solo, "Bless This House" by Janet Stock, and flute solo, "Peasant Dance" by Carolyn Hansmeier, with Karan Beard accompanying both numbers.

Russell Peebles, band instructor in Unit 27, stated these students are preparing for contest, which will be held in Staunton on March 12, and 24 grade school students from the Triopia band will participate.

A letter was read from Mrs. Paul Vannier, director of P.T.A. District 13. Announcement was made of the talk to be given by Dr. Kenneth Hileman of the State Department of Education, at the Arenzville gym on Thursday, Feb. 23, at 8 p.m., concerning the proposed 6-3-3 program, and the talk will be followed by a question and answer period.

Mrs. Orienne Aufdenkamp thanked the P.T.A. for the planter awarded to her sixth grade room in January for having the most Dads present. The attendance award for February was won by the eighth grade room.

A report of the recent school board meeting was given by Mrs. Henry Hansmeier. Mrs. John Schroeder reported on the talk given to the Triopia faculty recently by Dr. Kenneth Hileman. Mrs. Clifford Plunkett, budget and finance committee, reported $38.50 was received from the bakeless bake sale.

A nominating committee was appointed including Mrs. Bert Stinson, Mrs. Warren Stock, and Mrs. Clifford Plunkett.

A Founder's Day collection was taken, amounting to $5.08.

Honor Past Presidents

The queen was escorted and crowned by Roger Allen, president of the F.F.A. Little Jo Ellen Seely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Seely carried the crown on a satin pillow. A huge red heart was a beautiful setting for the coronation. The queen wore a floor length strapless formal of white, accented by a red bow with long streamers at the midriff. The skirt featured small rows of floral and plain net, alternating, and a large floral ruffle at the bottom.

MISS SALLY CASTLEBERRY

The F.F.A. Sweetheart candidate, Miss Brenda Barrow, was escorted by David Chapman and wore a floor length lavender gown with tulle ruffles of net over taffeta shaping the bodice, the skirt also featuring small ruffles.

Miss Connie Martin, freshman candidate, escorted by Gary Hubbard, wore a red ballerina length strapless formal of nylon over taffeta. Shirred gathers molded the bodice, and white nylon ruffles formed the skirt. The midriff was accented with rhinestones and she wore a rhinestone necklace and red heels.

Miss Beck Chunley, sophomore candidate was escorted by Kenyon Lorton and wore a mint green formal, with a softly shirred bodice of nylon over taffeta. The floor length skirt featured roseal patterns of tiny ruffles.

Miss Terrell Reno, junior candidate, escorted by John Stewart, wore a pale blue floor length formal, with a white lace ruffled bodice over blue taffeta and accented by a blue satin cummerbund. The skirt featured rows of scalloped white chantilly lace over blue taffeta.

Terry Tucker served as master of ceremonies and following the coronation, the dancers joined in the grand march. Virgil Bowen's orchestra furnished music for dancing and refreshments of cookies, punch and coffee were served.

PROUD COLONY—Queen Elizabeth II and her ancestor, King George III, appear on this stamp which marks a century and a half of colonial postage. It was issued by the island of Mauritius (720 square miles, pop., 61,000), a British colony in the Indian Ocean. Mauritius' post office was started under George, the monarch against whom the American colonists revolted to form the United States.

WSCS Plans Chili Supper At Cass Methodist Church

VIRGINIA—The W.S.C.S. of the Virginia Methodist church met
February 14, in the church parlors.
Mrs. Frank Bruno, president, conducted a Board meeting at 1:30 p.m. The regular session began at 2 p.m. with 37 members present.
The program was entitled "What's the Word." Mrs. Charles Bennett read a prayer from the Prayer Book. Regrets were expressed at the death of two faithful members, Mrs. Elmer Jokisch and Mrs.
I. S. Yaple. A prayer to their memory was given by Mrs. George Huffman.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. B. W. Peebles. The Scripture reading in unison was from the 19th Psalm. A hymn, "Lord Speak
To Me," was sung by the group.
Mrs. William Harris presented the lesson study in a thoughtful and impressive way. The important part the use of words make in our everyday life was brought out. She quoted from the Gospel of St.
John, "And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us," to make the lesson clearer that God does speak to each one. Mrs. Bruno closed the program with the benediction. The business meeting followed.

Mrs. John Kerry, recording secretary, read the minutes. Several communications were read, including a number of Thank You notes.
Treasurer Miss Lillie Gustafson reported a substantial sum in the treasury. Mrs. Ernest Workman thanked all who donated quilt scraps for the Cherokee Indians.
She stated the material would be sent this month. Mrs. Huffman, secretary of missionary education,
spoke about the Mission Study class. It was decided to send a cash donation to Paine College in Georgia. The next study class will have as their topic the book, "One World—One Mission."

The M.Y.F. will serve chili and pie supper February 25 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the church. This group asks for donations of pie. It was voted to make a contribution to the Virginia 125th Anniversary celebration fund, since the Methodist church was the first church established in the city.

The World Day of Prayer was celebrated at the Grace Lutheran Church February 17. The Methodist women who participated in the program are Mrs. John Schaeffer, Mrs. J. G. Murphy, Mrs.
Charles Darland, Mrs. John Calhoun, Miss Lillie Gustafson, Mrs.
Harry Watkins, Mrs. George Huffman, Mrs. Ted Harrison, Mrs.
Howard Jokisch, Mrs. Gene
Crouse, Mrs. Harry Thompson,
Mrs. Jesse Wilhite, Mrs. Milton

Alaskan Wildlife To Be Shown In Movies

The Jacksonville Sportsmen's Club has booked an outstanding attraction for 8 p.m. Saturday, March 4, when Cecil Rhode, veteran Alaskan guide and Disney photographer, will personally narrate the pair of unbelievable wildlife films he was four years in the making—"Alaska Affair." The program will begin at 8 p.m. at Jacksonville high school auditorium.

In announcing the thrilling program, which will appeal to both young and old, Vern Mueller, president of the Jacksonville Sportsmen's club, said this is a chance to see a living color-drama of America's last frontier, and hear authoritative answers on Alaskan wildlife.

Advance tickets for adults at $1, and children at 50 cents, are on sale at several locations including The Drexel, Myers Brothers, Triple Flame Steak House, Jacksonville Foods No. 2, Bossarte Grocery, Eades Service Station, and also may be obtained from any club member.

"This is another of the famous Wally Taber's Safari-Saga series," Mr. Mueller, club president, said. "Rhode is Taber's latest associate. As with the adventure films for which Taber has become justly famous, Rhode's will be wholesome, whole-family entertainment popularly priced for whole-family attendance."

"I've seen many Alaskan films, even shot a few of my own," Taber advised, "But I have yet to see anything the equal of Cecil Rhode's. You'll go away talking, thinking and dreaming Alaska."

LISTEN TO WLDS

ANOTHER "GRACIE"—Jody Warner left her mark on the University of Houston when she did wiggling imitations of Marilyn Monroe. Now, in TV's "One Happy Family," Jody is chalking up new success by playing the "Penny" character in the classic Gracie Allen manner. Oddly enough, it was George Burns who gave Jody her first Hollywood job.

They include Trilix Calamity, Pipeline Begishie, Buddy Mustache, Poorboy Kid, James Left-hand, Ernest Yellowhair, Little Laughter, Wee Willie, Lee Sombrero, Little Red House and Ben Franklin. Methodist Men's Group Has Turkey Dinner In Virginia

VIRGINIA—The Methodist Men's Group of the Virginia church were hosts at a dinner meeting February 15. This is an annual event when special guests are Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Coulter, District Superintendent of the Jacksonville District; Rev. and Mrs. Walter Pruett, pastor of Centenary church, Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones of Jacksonville.

A menu of turkey and all the trimmings was served at 7 p.m. The group of ladies who served the meal received sincere thanks for a job well done from the colorful Valentine decorations on the table to the delicious food. Over 100 persons were present.

A group of Ashland church members were in attendance. H. M. Knight introduced Rev. Charles Bennett, who in turn presented the visitors. Following the meal, Mr. Knight conducted a brief business session. Clyde Walbert read the minutes of the January meeting and a committee to sell tickets for the March meeting was appointed. The topic for this meet-will move his family to Williams Bay, Wis., the latter part of this week. He begins his new employment on February 27, and will be in the electronics department of the Fairbanks-Morse Co.

Changes Dates
Owing to a conflict of dates, the dates for the 125th anniversary celebration of the city of Virginia, have been changed to July 20-21-22-23. The wheat harvest at this time of year, the Beardstown 4th of July celebration and Rushville Fair are some of the conflicting dates.

The following committees have been appointed and anyone willing to serve on any of them is asked to contact the committee chairman:

Pageant — Virginia Woman's Club, Mrs. Franklin Watkins, chairman.

Entertainment — Virginia Kiwanis Club, N. M. Velten, chairman.

Decorations — American Legion, William Knight, Commander; Mrs. Russell Decker, president American Legion Auxiliary.

Finance — Virginia Jaycees, Wayne Briggs, president.

Publicity — Virginia Junior Woman's Club, Mrs. William Kilby, president.

All interested persons are urged to attend the next meeting, Monday evening, at the Highway Cafe at 9 p.m.

WOODSON WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS AT McCURLEY HOME

After the collection routine business was conducted with the secretary's report by Mrs. Hazel Erickson and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Erma Ashbaker.

Mrs. Ruth Hemmrough read a book Shintolism, in the absence of Mrs. Hildred Craig, program chairman. The meeting closed with the club prayer.

Mrs. Esther Murphy was in charge during the social hour. Prizes were won by Mrs. Louella Driver, Mrs. Faye Fenstermaker and Mrs. Erma Ashbaker. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting with Mrs. Grace Brandon assisting.

Seek To Break Language Barrier To Aid Confused Church Goers

By JULES LOH
One day last spring Pope John XXIII made a sudden visit to the Church of Our Lady of Help in Rome. He knelt through a half hour of prayers—all in Latin—then rose and made an epochal pronouncement.

Henceforth, said the pontiff whose breaks with tradition have become commonplace, "efforts will be made to make more widespread the use of the language of the people in public religious ceremonies."

Thus emboldened, the church has been vigorously setting about removing what one prominent liturgist, the Rev. John LaFarge, S.J., describes as "a barrier between the sanctuary and the nave."

But the highly ritualistic Roman Catholic Church is not the only one concerned with this so-called language barrier.

A United Lutheran Church pastor, for example, describes the Elizabethan English of his worship service as "a combination of myth and mumbo" which many reject as unintelligible.

The Rev. Henry E. Horn, pastor of University Lutheran church in Cambridge, Mass., complains the archaic English words of his denomination's liturgy are "musty with age and poetic beauty, but lacking in reality to our people."

A fellow churchman, the Rev. Krister Stendahl, a professor of

New Testament at Harvard Divinity school, said he also is concerned with "the coldness of Lutheran worship."

Father LaFarge echoed essentially the same sentiments about the use of Latin, which few Catholics read or understand.

For the most part, said the Jesuit, "the congregation sits in bored silence with little sense of union with what is being done by the celebrant. A greater lack of rapport could scarcely be contrived."

The Lutheran churchmen reported no formal or organized effort to modernize their worship service, but Catholic hierarchy in a number of countries have asked for and (almost invariably) received permission from the Vatican to make more use of the language of their people.

558 Participate In Blood Bank Drive In Cass

VIRGINIA—A total of 558 people in Beardstown and community participated themselves at the Walking Blood Bank Typing Center at the City Hall in Beardstown, Saturday Feb. 11, to have their blood typed, or transfer their names and blood type to the Walking Blood Bank group. This brings the total number of people typed in Cass county to slightly under 2800.

This program which has been sponsored in every town and community in Cass county during the past three years, is a Health project of the Cass County Health Improvement Association which sponsors it jointly with Schmitt Memorial Hospital, in Beardstown. It was promoted February 11 by the Beardstown Business and Professional Women's Club with Mrs. Helen Buck, president.

Mrs. Buck stated Saturday, "We are deeply grateful to the county newspapers, to radio station WRMS for the excellent publicity given the project, to the many people who helped, and to civic and fraternal groups and individuals who contributed funds. It was a great community project that was successful because so many groups and individuals co-operated."

The Health Improvement Association plans to re-open typing centers in each of the areas where it has been before to give people who have never been typed, an opportunity to have this service, free to the individual.

Ebenezer Girls 4-H Club Meets

The Ebenezer Girls Home Ec. 4-H Club was called to order by president Judy Walpole. The pledge to the 4-H flag was led by Sheryl Freeman, and the American pledge by Lois Driver. The roll was called and answered by "What We Know About George Washington?" The minutes were read and approved by secretary Virginia Ward. The new members were Susan Kershaw, Doris Martin and Jennifer Wilson.

The following demonstrations were given: "Know Your Measurements" by Sharon Mallicoat, "What You Can Learn from Your Printed Pattern," Judy Walpole, and "ABC's of Salads" by Karen Clayton.

Songs were led by Sherrie Houston and Myrna Martin, recreation by Virginia Ward and Gail Rencher, refreshments were served by Jane Hadden and Myrna Martin. The next meeting will be March 16 at North Jacksonville at 7:00 p.m.

Cumby, Large Wedding Held In Jacksonville

Miss Patricia Ann Cumby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lee Cumby of Berlin, Ill., and granddaughter of Mrs. Mac Weger of Berlin, became the bride of William R. Large of route two Murrayville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Large of Murrayville, in a ceremony performed in Jacksonville Saturday, Feb. 11. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Charles Warwar.

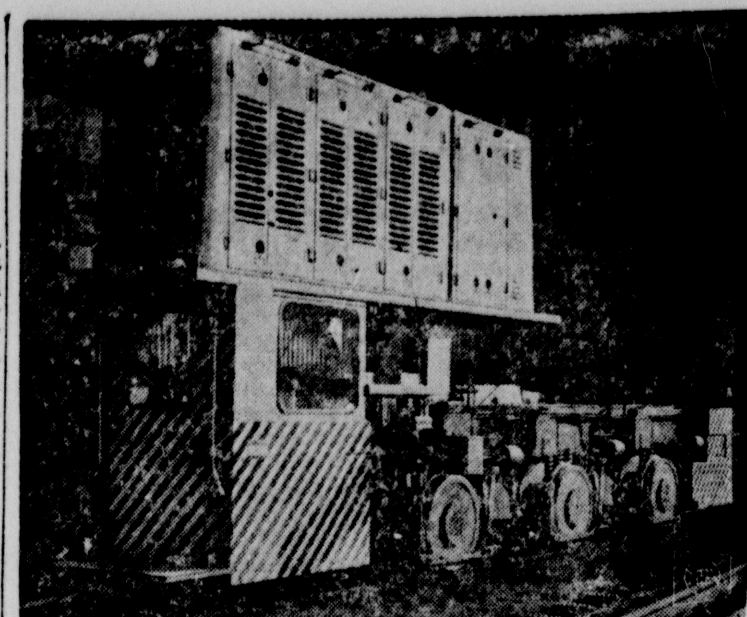

Attending the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. George William Cockin of Alexander. The former Miss Cumby wore a two piece suit of blue with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Cockin wore a brown two piece dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple will reside in a country home on route five, Woodson.

BALL'S BELLE
Belle of the first inaugural ball held in Washington, D. C., was Dolley Madison. So many attended the brilliant affair in Long's hotel on March 4, 1800, that windows were smashed to give needed ventilation.

ODD ONE—A new look in locomotives. The motor's on top, engineer underneath. It's called a "side-arm pusher" and was designed for over-all visibility. It was built for pushing up to 50 cars at a coke plant in East Chicago, Ill.

Day Of Prayer Observance Held At Junior High

The Christian Girls Club, sponsored by Miss Blanche Spall, observed the World Day of Prayer on Friday afternoon, Feb. 17th, by presenting a service for the Jonathan Turner Junior high school student body.

Bobbette Kraushaar, president of the Christian Girls Club, presided over the service. The program was opened by Suzie Dowland who gave "The Prayer of Our Country." She was followed by Marilyn Sargeant who sang "The Lord's Prayer," and Alice Henderson then told of the history of the World Day of Prayer. The student body was very pleased to have Rev. John Thomson as their speaker who gave a very inspirational talk. Sharon Pinson then recited her original poem, written especially for this occasion, entitled "God's Plan." It went as follows:

"When God created the Heavens and earth, His was a wonderful plan, the greatest of which was birth. In his own image he created man.

"We watch His lovely plan unfold in the continuity of life for all, his wonders we behold in summer, winter, spring and fall.
"So let us not be tempted by the devil, nor be betrayed by the essence thereof. But stay close to God; seek the highest level; find security in the blessings of His love.

"Let us be pure in heart and soul, by faith be forever united; spread Christianity as our goal, so the hearts of all may be lighted.
"The human race both dark and fair, God holds so very dear. Let us pray that nations far and near will dwell and live in peace; live with triumph; survive disaster. Live, and die, and rise thereafter.
To close the service Beverly Wagner sang "The Prayer of Peace." Mrs. Mildred Kane accompanied the soloists.

HABIT BROKEN
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Lena Hastings Johansen of Tucson had a habit of leaving her pruning shears on the sill outside her bedroom window.

A thief broke that habit by using the shears to cut a window screen, enter the Johansen home and haul out several valuable items.

U.S. Policy Faces Challenge In Argentina

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The balmy midsummer air of this sun-drenched capital has a feeling of urgency.

Here, says many an Argentinean, is the real test for Latin America; the great challenge for U.S. policy. Here, they contend, is a main battlefield in the struggle between forces of constitutional democracy and the combination of communism and Castrolism.

Argentina, says its first freely elected president after the Juan Peron dictatorship, already is giving an extraordinary example to the rest of Latin America of how a people can help itself. Says slender, scholarly Arturo Frondizi: "The United States must appreciate that it is fundamental and absolutely necessary to cooperate with all Latin America in its economic and social development.

"The important thing is for the United States to realize that it is not giving charity to 300 million Latin Americans, but making a contribution to the development of Latin America's people."

Frondizi's minister of economy, hard-driving, dynamic Alvaro Alsogaray, gives the impression that he feels Argentina's government is involved in a race with time, to prove it can achieve what it has set out to do.

"If Argentina succeeds," he told me earnestly, "then other Latin American countries can succeed, too. If we fail, then Fidel Castro will gain significant help and far greater possibilities in Latin America."

The Argentine army, regarding itself as a sentinel over the constitution, has struck heavily against Peronistas, Communists and Castrolists alike. But still the germ of Castrolism became deeply imbedded. It infected many in influential places—men and women able to command followings of dissatisfied workers, restless students, resentful intellectuals, all shades of unreasoning anti-Yankeeism.

In the ranks of labor, former dictator Juan D. Peron left a legacy of tough-core Peronistas who now cast blank ballots in elections. An effective voting alliance of these Peronistas with the extreme left could produce disaster at the polls for the future of orderly constitutional government in this rich, key South American nation. Already there have been instances of Communist-Peronist alliances on the union labor front and for purposes of terrorism directed against the Frondizi government.

The Communists have made good use of extreme Socialists and romantic students—makers of revolution—who regard Castro as a symbol of a wave of the future. The combination demonstrated its potential by jolting the Frondizi government in recent senatorial by-elections in the federal capital. They elected to Parliament 80-year-old Alfredo Palacios, for more than 50 years an ardent anti-Yankee.

Palacios seems to regard the United States, as he did when he entered the political arena in the early 1900s, as a nation dominated by super-greedy imperialists. He is worshiped by students as a founder of Argentina's university system. And students are an important political factor, since the voting age is 18.

Palacios evidently hates communism as much as he hated Peronism. But he was attracted by Castro's Cuban regime when he visited Havana in 1959. Now in Argentina's Senate he may fill the role of catalyst to rally forces of the left for united opposition to Frondizi's program to bring economic recovery out of the wreckage left by the Peron dictatorship.

It is even possible that these factors, coupled with the threat of Peronist voting strength, can force the Frondizi government into a program with a far more leftist look in an effort to persuade Argentina's workers that they have a stake in the government's future.

A major test will not be long in coming. Early in 1962 Argentina will elect half its Congress. Much of the major legislation relating to the government's program of recovery through free private enterprise will have been pushed through by that time. But the opposition could impede its implementation.

Peron nationalized virtually every aspect of Argentina's economic life. The Frondizi government has reversed much of the nationalization and has produced a peso which has been remarkably sound and stable for more than a year. Frondizi has been required to adopt austere measures, never popular, to produce stabilization of the currency and economic recovery.

The president says this recovery already has been largely achieved with some U.S. help but mainly by "the work and sacrifices of our own people." But Frondizi has a critical year ahead in which he must convince the voting public of a highly literate country that the sacrifices have been fair and equal among all classes.

"I'm sure," the president told me, "the people of the country will understand these measures have been for their own welfare."

But I talked to some restless students about it. They were not in a mood to understand. One, representing conservative thinking among Buenos Aires University's 65,000 students, insisted that the administration of Frondizi has "failed to reach the people."

For example, the student said, Economics Minister Alsogaray "represents big business and speaks in terms which can hardly be clear to the ordinary simple workers who once thought and probably still think that Evita Peron (wife of the dictator) was a saint."

Farm Program May Be Kennedy's First Major Test Of Strength

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm legislation may well provide President Kennedy with the first major test of his administration's strength in Congress.

The test may not come so much on what Congress does with its legislative proposals as on the speed or lack of it with which it acts.

A feed grain program sent to Capitol Hill last week carried a Kennedy plea for approval by March 1. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman was a little more generous. He said action was needed by March 15 at the latest.

This program would be designed to cut down on production of surplus feed grains by withdrawing land from production of these crops and by diverting some of it to soybeans to produce vegetable oils to meet foreign food-for-peace promises.

Unless Congress approves this program by mid-March, it might as well forget it. There would be insufficient time after that to put the program into operation before farmers planted spring crops. In fact, some feed grain producers in extreme southern parts of the country already are plowing or planting corn and other grains.

The government also needs some time after Congress approves the plan to get it before individual farmers.

The program has many administrative details, the least of which is determination on each farm's production base—the acreage from which it would have to reduce plantings at least 20 percent to get price supports.

Farmers themselves are already at the time where they must make decisions on purchase of seed, fertilizer and other supplies. Some already have made their purchases.

Delayed congressional approval of the feed grain program could be embarrassing to the administration. It has stuck its neck out to project higher price supports for feed grains and soybeans—increases it might feel obliged to withhold or later if the program is approved too late to become effective.

Freeman A Liberal
WASHINGTON (AP) — Many farm leaders are wondering if Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will turn out to be what's termed a liberal, moderate or conservative on government farm policies. He had been generally classed before his appointment as a liberal, even an ultra-liberal by some.

But take it from the National Grange, one of the major national farm organizations, the new secretary has given the impression that he is "moderately liberal."

Baptist Guild At Ashland Has Society Program

ASHLAND — The Ann Judson Guild of the Baptist church presented a program for the women of the Missionary Society on Sunday evening.

Linda Rich introduced the program on "Heritage In Hopland," which consisted of a devotional period led by Diane Birch and Margaret Corbin; colored slides, narrated by Miss Janice Whisman, and a skit by Mary Kathryn Bloomfield and Marilyn Clemons. Special music was provided by Marilyn Fulton.

Washington Potluck
About fifty were in attendance at the annual Washington potluck supper for the Masons and their families and the Eastern Star members and their families held Sunday evening in the Masonic hall at 6 p.m. Following the supper, a social hour and entertainment was enjoyed.

The program included: Solo by Jeannie Bloomfield, "Ma," Ramona Douglas and Beverly Barbee played numbers on their French horns, with Andrea Jokisch as accompanist. Terry Bloomfield sang a solo, "Stars Are the Windows of Heaven," with Mrs. J. H. Douglass as accompanist.

Cathy Campbell sang two numbers, "Light A Light" and "Let It Snow," vocal solo. "The Place Where I Worship," by Darrell Walker, with Mrs. Douglass as accompanist. Moving pictures of New Orleans, La., were shown by Roy Monroe, who, with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Orne, had just returned from a vacation trip in Louisiana. Mrs. Orne had been visiting there for the past three weeks with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kesterson and daughter.

It so describes him in a letter to its members.

Belgium Farm Program
WASHINGTON (AP) — Belgium has taken steps to encourage its farmers to produce more feed grains so that imports might be reduced. The action would adversely affect shipments from the United States.

Belgium has increased import license taxes on these grains. The tax on corn and sorghum grain has been raised from 40 to 61 cents a bushel, oats from 29 to 39 cents and barley from 51 to 68 cents.

Bean Export to Japan
WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects for increasing exports of soybeans to Japan this year appear favorable, Agriculture Department officials report.

Japan's own crop is expected to total only around 13.5 million bushels, the smallest since 1949. It produced nearly 20 million bushels in the early 1950s.

To Give Needy Oats
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rolled oats to be processed from government-owned surplus stocks will be added to the list of surplus foods donated to the nation's needy.

The Agriculture Department has asked processors to submit bids for processing and packaging the oats for relief distribution. Other foods on the list include wheat flour, corn meal, butter, rice, non-fat dry milk, dried eggs, dry beans, lard, peanut butter, and canned pork and gravy.

OHIO COMPOSER

VFW Auxiliary Gives To RFE, Cancer Fund

February 8th was the date of the last regular meeting of the VFW Auxiliary to Post 1379 held at the Post Home with the president, Adeline Warmoth, presiding. Protem officers were secretary, Agnes McDevitt; junior vice president, Margaret Devlin; and guard, Virginia Houston and chaplain, Harriett Pate.

The opening ceremony was followed by the reading of communications by the secretary which included a letter from Mrs. Orville Foreman, chairman for Heart Sunday, Feb. 26th, in Jacksonville. The letter requested volunteers from the Auxiliary to help canvass the city for Heart Fund donations. A letter from Radio Free Europe asked for a donation and the Auxiliary voted ten dollars to this cause.

Clara Tribble reported on child welfare and community service announcing the Auxiliary will sponsor a Stanley party to make money for a child welfare month. The party date will be announced later.

Frances Bodensiek reported on Americanism and the Lincoln Day Pilgrimage to be held in Springfield. The president thanked all committees serving for the Early Bird Dinner and the one in charge of the rummage sale.

The Auxiliary voted one hundred dollars to the Department of Illinois Cancer Fund. Treasurer Marge Hull reported and Clara Tribble reported for the auditing committee.

Five year membership pins were presented to Virginia Houston, Frances Coultas and Catherine Mitchell. The meeting adjourned with retiring of colors. Hostesses for the evening were Cecelia Walker and Clara Tribble.

Teaching Deaf Children Program Before Pilots

Following dinner in the Terrace Room at Hotel Dunlap Feb. 15th members of the Pilot Club of Jacksonville adjourned to Illinois School for Deaf. There Mrs. Marion Thorn, faculty member in the acoustic department, explained methods of instruction in the manual, oral and acoustic departments, into which the school is divided.

"Not all deaf children are able to use their speech organs, and many cannot master the art of lip reading," Mrs. Thorn stated. "For these students there is the manual method with use of finger spelling and signs," she explained.

Some children read lips with ease and are able to speak but have no usable hearing. For these children there is the oral method Mrs. Thorn revealed. The third group is made up of children who have some trainable hearing. The degrees of hearing losses vary to a great degree, but all need the use of amplification to use that remnant of hearing. These children wear group hearing aids for classroom instruction and individual hearing aids at all other times.

Mrs. Thorn followed this explanation by a demonstration of classroom instruction with a group of nine 8-year old boys and girls.

Mrs. Arthur Samore, rhythm teacher in the acoustic department then took the group of children and demonstrated a typical daily rhythm class. "Rhythm is important for deaf children," she only 135 words.

stated. Rhythm is everywhere and hearing people absorb it unconsciously, but the deaf child cannot hear it and must be taught the very simplest rhythms.

Mrs. Samore showed how the children learn to listen and recognize various rhythms and songs. These children do not sing but learn to put rhythm into their speech. They also learn folk dances and march drills.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Samore's demonstration the finance committee of the club, Miss Mary Walters, chairman, from previous arrangements, presented each of the children participating a colorful candy treat.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)—What makes a good goalie in hockey? Is it the goaltender who gives up the fewest goals in a season, or shouldn't this be carried to a greater depth? Why shouldn't a netminder's ability be measured by his field as against the number of saves he has to make?

The question popped up in the Rangers' offices at Madison Square Garden when Alf Pike suddenly referred to Lorne Worsley as the best goalie in hockey. Gump Worsley guards the net for the New York club, a poor fifth in the six-team National Hockey League.

Pike, the longtime hockey handy man coaching the Rangers, pointed to the game of Feb. 11 on Madison Square Garden ice by way of building a case for Worsley, the happy-go-lucky, wisecracking little guy from Montreal. The game in question saw the Rangers and Canadiens battling to a 3-3 tie. Worsley was credited with 52 saves, the masked Jacques Plante 23 for the Habitanas.

Plante has been awarded the Vezina Trophy and the $1,000 that goes with it for five straight campaigns for being with the team with the tightest season defensive record.

It goes without saying that this trophy and the accompanying bonus more often than not are awarded to the goalie blessed by having the strongest defense in front of him.

"While this system is in effect there is never going to be any accurate measurement of a goalie's gifts," said Pike. "Measuring his effectiveness on the basis of the amount of work he has to do is a much fairer test than the present system."

"Take the game of Feb. 11 and the trouble to average things off and you find Worsley allowed one goal for every 19 shots at the net. Plante on the other hand yielded one goal for every eight saves. This tells us unmistakably that Worsley was more than twice as effective as Plante during this particular 60 minutes. Worsley has off nights just like Plante and everybody else but he has more good ones."

The poly-poly Worsley looks like anything but an athlete, but he happens to have extraordinary reflex action. Because he faces such heavy bombardment, Worsley has endured considerable criticism, much of it unwarranted. He has three times been sent to the minors either because of injuries or the severe pressure of the opposition. Yet he finally has become a warm favorite of rabid New York fans.

Worsley plainly is happier under Pike than he was while the Rangers were being supervised by fiery Phil Watson, relieved of command early last season. In efforts to get Worsley up for the next game, Watson would climb all over him occasionally for what he considered a shoddy performance. When the weight chart showed Worsley putting on two or three pounds, Watson cried bloody murder.

Once Watson called Gump "Beer Belly."

"Beer is for peasants," snapped back Gump, who will take a highball or two after a game.

When Jack McCartan, goalie of the winning American Olympic team, was sent out for seasoning early this season, Alf Pike assured Worsley that the job was his for keeps. Worsley has been the finest goalie ever since, despite a lot of switching made necessary by several facial injuries. He played in early November despite a pulled muscle in his back.

Gump Worsley has slugged it out for eight winters and now that he has it made he has no intention of stopping anything but flying pucks.

Spartans Hand Illini 5th Conference Loss

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State, cellar dweller of the Big Ten, started Illinois by taking a early lead and hanging on for a 90-80 basketball victory here Monday night.

It was the second Big Ten victory of the season in a dozen starts for the Spartans. Illinois is now 4-5 in the conference.

Temper flared on the Illinois team near the end of the game. Bill Burwell, the 6-8 sophomore Illini center, was thrown out on a technical foul for slamming the ball into the back of MSU's Ron Sabo. Burwell previously nearly tangled with Spartan center Ted Williams. Burwell scored seven points.

Art Schwarm scored 23 points for Michigan State. Dave Downey and John Wessels were high for Illinois with 22 each.

The upset averaged a 93-92 win by Illinois a few weeks ago after Michigan State had led for all but the last 30 seconds.

State surged ahead 15-7 early in the game and had a 31-16 advantage midway in the first half. The MSU lead was 46-38 at the half. Illinois led briefly 51-50 with four minutes gone in the second half. It was the only time the Illini were ahead, except during the first minute of the game.

U.S. OPEN AT BROOKLINE
NEW YORK (AP)—The 1963 U.S. Open Golf Championship will be held at The Country Club in Brookline, Mass., where Francis Ouimet scored his great triumph 50 years before.

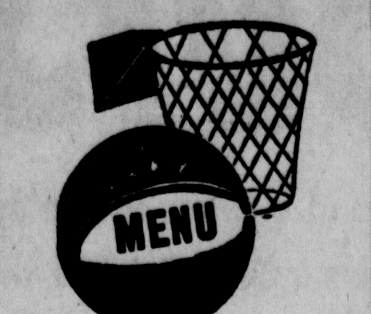

The U.S. Golf Association, making the announcement Monday, said the dates will be June 20, 21 and 22.

In 1913 Ouimet, then 20, became the first amateur to win the open. He did it by beating the renowned British professional, Ted Ray and Harry Vardon, in an 18-hole playoff.

The prize catch took place while the Newmans were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Linebaugh, local residents, who winter in Marathon every year. Also on board were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson of Chapin. Mrs. Wilson caught a dolphin and a 10 pound grouper.

Thomas' Chief Aim Now Is To Beat Russian

BOSTON (AP)—Unwilling to concede he's second best to Russian Valery Brumel—or anyone, John Thomas returned to the high jump pit Monday.

His philosophy—think in terms of 7 feet, 6 inches.

His formula—relentless, hard work.

His aim—beat Brumel.

The rematch is this Saturday in the National AAU meet in New York.

A year ago the Boston University student was unchallenged among the world's high jumpers. Yet last Friday night a 7-1 effort, his 58th at seven feet or higher, was well behind Brumel's 7-3. Thomas was third behind Soviet Robert Shavlakadze and Brumel at the Rome Olympics.

Minutes after his latest setback, the 6-5 Thomas approached Coach Ed Flanagan with the observation: "Coach, we have to start working all over again, just like when I first came to BU."

"Brumel has succeeded in making us really go back to work," Flanagan said. "After I talked with the Russians and learned how much practice they do daily, I'm sure now that I have been babying John in the past."

"They told me Brumel practices two hours a day, six days a week—and competes on the seventh. All their jumpers do. That's quite a contrast to Thomas' 45 minutes for four days a week and Friday off."

Johansson Calls Off Drills; Floyd Stages Workout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ingemar Johansson called off a scheduled Miami Beach workout Monday because of a slight head cold. Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson worked out in secret after running four miles on a golf course.

Johansson's trainer, Whitey Binsfeld, ordered him not to work out at the Miami Beach Convention Hall—site of the March 12 championship fight—because of the cold.

When the challenger opened his Palm Beach training camp, promoters promised he would work out at least once a week at Miami Beach. Johansson has shown up for only one drill three weeks ago and was unhappy because of boos from the crowd.

Johansson has a day off Tuesday and, according to Binsfeld, should be back in top condition Wednesday for training at Palm Beach.

Patterson will train publicly every Friday, Saturday and Sunday at a Miami Beach hotel. He will work out secretly Mondays and Thursdays.

During the secret sessions, Patterson will attempt to come up with some new tactics. He said Johansson is a "sneaky" fighter and comes up with new things.

"Johansson is a thinking fighter, so I must be a thinking fighter too," Patterson said.

John Henry, veteran sparring partner, said Patterson is a champion who keeps improving. "Floyd is punching sharper and harder than he was at the same stage of his training for the fight last June with Johansson."

The latest signed by raceway President Martin Tananbaum on his tour of New Zealand and Australia is Apmat, a 7-year-old gelding rated as Australia's finest free-for-all pacer.

Apmat is owned by Mrs. Maurie Anderson of Granville, New South Wales. Previously Tananbaum contracted to import two New Zealand pacers, False Step and Arania.

The French ace had entered the French jumping championships "just for fun." He took a spill on his third jump, tearing a ligament in his shoulder. An emergency operation was performed on the shoulder.

Salem Lutheran Wins Peoria Tournament, 47-24

PEORIA—Coach Roy Lovkamp's Salem Lutheran quintet of Jacksonville scored an easy decision over Trinity of Arenville Sunday afternoon in the finals of the Peoria Lutheran Basketball Tournament, 47-24.

The tournament champs commanded a 25-3 margin at halftime and this set the stage for free substitution throughout the second half.

Terry Damrau and Ronald Brookhouse of the first place team and Roger Burrus of Arenville were selected to the 'All-Tournament' team.

Springfield nudged Peoria, 37-35, for consolation honors.

Aparicio Tells His Side Of 3-Year Suspension

CHICAGO (AP)—Luis Aparicio, star shortstop for the Chicago White Sox, Monday phoned the club from New York, telling his side of a three-year suspension from playing baseball in the Caribbean area.

Aparicio, who has yet to reach 1961 contract terms with the Sox, was fined $1,000 as well as suspended three years for recently leaving his Rapinose team of Maracaibo, Venezuela, before the final game against Valencia in the inter-American series.

Guillermo Angulo Lopez, president of the Western Baseball League in Maracaibo, said Aparicio demanded $500 before he would play with Rapinose in the final game, which Valencia won 2-1 to take the series.

Aparicio told Ed Short, Sox traveling secretary, that he had agreed to play only six games in the series, which went down to the final seventh.

He said he had made all transportation arrangements to fly to the side of his wife and attend the funeral of her father.

The $500, he said, was the amount he asked to cover canceled transportation costs required if he stayed for the final game. When this was refused, he said he left.

IOWA BOWS TO MICHIGAN

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Iowa twice frittered away 11-point leads but had enough left to subdue Michigan 50-46 in a Big Ten basketball game Monday night.

Don Nelson, the only first string survivor of Iowa's mid-year scholastic ineligibility axe, sank three free throws in the last minute of play to ice the Hawkeyes' seventh conference victory.

The 6-foot-6 center led all the scorers with 22 points and was Iowa's most important rebounder. Iowa, ninth ranked in the nation, held a 24-23 lead at the end of a first half which saw Michigan back track from an 11-point deficit to take the lead.

Collinsville's powerful Kahoks start the regional tourney competition at Granite City Monday night opposing Roxana at 7 p.m. In the Wood River sectional on March 8-9-10 regional winners from Granite City and Jerseyville play while the winners from Staunton and Alton also play in the first round. The Wood River winner plays in the Super-section at Salem March 14 against the winner at Bridgeport. The Bridgeport sectional entries are winners from Newton, Effingham, Centralia and Paris regionals.

John Cruser of Canton high will accompany Coach Joe Adam to Murray State college in Kentucky Wednesday to see Arkansas State play Coach Cal Luther's five. The fine Canton cage captain might attend Murray State next year.

Coach Adam announced that he will leave Canton at 7 a.m. Wednesday for the trip to Kentucky.

Granite City, Decatur and Arlington Heights are the three new teams to play in the Pontiac Holiday tourney next season. Clinton is the defending champion but the signed contract to play next year at Pontiac. It marks the first time for Decatur's Reds to compete in a Holiday meet since 1947.

While Granite City has completed the last two years at Centralia's meet.

Jerseyville won the sectional title in 1956 by beating Edwards-ville 77-74 and the Panthers are favored to win the Regional this season and advance to the tough Wood River sectional tourney. It appears the Panthers of Coach George Havens will bump into Collinsville in the initial round.

George Havens' strong Nashville five of 1949 eliminated another powerful Collinsville five 27-25 in the sectional tourney and advanced to fourth place in the "Sweet 16 Tourney." Since taking over at Jerseyville high, Coach Havens' teams have played several sectional tourney opponents including Griggsville, Quincy, Madison, East St. Louis, Alton, Highland, Edwardsville, Litchfield and Forman (Manito). The last two years Jerseyville dropped sectional tourney games by two points each against Madison and Forman.

Coach Mick Pahl's Triad's Knights (Troy, St. Jacob and Marine) won their 22nd straight game beating Highland 70-63. The Knights won their third straight MBC title on February 7 by beating Venice.

Collinsville high has employed seven basketball coaches the last 37 years and it started back in 1929-34 with John H. Hawkins serving as Kahok mentor. A tragic automobile accident in the spring of 1924 which took the life of his daughter prompted Coach Hawkins to resign his job. Willard Larson succeeded Hawkins and spent 13 years before taking the job as coach at Canton high during the 1937-38 season. Allen Metternich, Jim Placek, D. K. Darling, Jack Faber and present mentor Vergil Fletcher were the next Collinsville cage mentors and Fletcher is in his 15th year.

The 1960-61 basketball campaign ends with games Friday and Saturday. The games Friday are as follows: Farmington at Chillicothe, Danville at Lincoln, Camp Point at Beardstown, Princeton at Ottumwa, Dixon at Streator, Pontiac at Clinton, DeKalb at Kewanee, Macomb at Quincy, Brown County at Virginia, Sherrard at Monmouth, Mason City at Christian Brothers (Quincy), Havana at Western (Macomb), Pittsfield at Jerseyville, Pinckneyville at Alton, Collinsville at Lincoln (East St. Louis), ISD at White Hall, Saturday games: Jacksonville at Pittsfield, Litchfield at Edwardsville, Moline at Pekin, Monmouth at Cuba, Limestone at Galesburg, East Peoria at Canton and Abingdon at Bushnell-Prairie City.

Pierce Agrees To 1961 Terms

CHICAGO (AP)—Billy Pierce Monday agreed to terms for his 13th season as an ace of the Chicago White Sox pitching corps.

Also signing was utility infielder Sammy Esposito, for his sixth full Sox campaign.

Lefty Pierce, 32, is the oldest in the first player deal by Frank Lane, when he became general manager of the club in 1949. Pierce plus $10,000 was obtained from Detroit for catcher Aaron Robinson. Lane always boasted that it proved to be one of the best transactions he ever made.

Pierce had a 14-7 record last season. He was out three weeks late in the drive with a pulled thigh muscle. He has won 176 games for the White Sox, 85 in the last five years, and has struck out 100 or more batters for 11 straight years. He has a lifetime earned run average of 3.21.

Esposito, who can play shortstop or third base, appeared in 57 games in 1960 and batted .182. The Sox now have 23 out of 34 in the fold.

Regional Site To Be Set Wednesday

The MacMurray College Highlanders were selected Monday to play in the NCAA Small College Basketball Tournament. The regional site will be determined Wednesday.

The selection was announced by Mr. Harvey Chouser, Director of Athletics at Wheaton College.

MacMurray holds a 16-5 record this season with recent wins over Elmhurst 70-51, and Wabash 77-60. Four game remain for the Highlanders, with McKendree College, current Prairie College Champion, playing at Jacksonville, Wednesday, Feb. 22, and the Mac Men traveling to Lake Forest College on Saturday, Feb. 25. MacMurray ends the home season against Augustana, Tuesday, Feb. 28, and completes its season March 4 in Jefferson City, Mo., against Lincoln University.

Coach Bill Wall's squad, holders of a 61-31 record in their brief four year history as a coordinate college, after 115 years as one of the nation's leading women's colleges, are paced in scoring by four seniors, Gary Little, 5'9", Jacksonville, has rolled up 251 points this season for a 1064 point total in 67 games. Ron Price, 6'2", Dorchester (Gillespie High School), has 227 points for a 1063 total in all 92 games. Don McCarty, 6-2", Pleasant Hill, has 892 in 90 games, while Marv Hohenberger, 6'1", from Ayrerville, Ohio is close behind with 875 points in 67 contests.

Close behind the seniors are a solid core of four underclassmen who contribute to the balanced team scoring and who lead in the rebounding department. Larry Krulac, 6'3" sophomore from St. David, (Lewistown High School), has scored 178 points and pulled off 219 rebounds. Tom Flynn, 6'2" sophomore from Canton, has 173 points, Roy Hahnfeldt, 6'4", Junior, Palatine, has 162 points and 138 rebounds, while freshmen Chuck Mau, who missed five games with an ankle injury, has tallied 115 markers.

The Highlanders have averaged 78.5 points per game, while giving up 68.5 per game.

MacMurray holds victories over Lincoln University (Mo.), Illinois Wesleyan, Western Illinois, Central (Mo.), Concordia (Springfield), St. Ambrose, Oakland City (Indiana), McKendree, Augustana, Kansas City University, Lewis Southern Illinois University (Alton), Illinois College, Illinois Tech, Elmhurst, and NCAA tourney bound Wabash.

Illinois State Normal, Wartburg, Indiana Central, Wabash, and Lewis have defeated the clan.

Wisconsin Ends Losing Ways Against Gophers

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin staged a second half spurt and snapped an eight-game losing streak Monday night with an 83-73 Big Ten basketball victory over Minnesota. It was the Badgers' first triumph since the first week in January.

Trailing throughout most of the first half, Wisconsin pumped in two field goals in the closing seconds to go in front 45-44 at the intermission. The Badgers held the advantage except for a brief moment in the second half.

Dave Erickson drove in for a layup nine minutes into the second half to put Minnesota in front 63-61 and the lead alternated until sophomore center Tom Gwyn hit a field goal and converted three straight free throws to give the Badgers a 72-67 advantage.

After Gwyn's performance, the Badgers doggedly held the lead. The Gophers managed to narrow the margin to one point, 74-73, with 18 minutes to go, but Wisconsin built up its count.

Ron Jackson led Wisconsin scorers with 22 points. Tom McGrann, Minnesota's top scorer, paced the Gophers with 21, while Erickson connected for 20.

Brumel Hopes To Do Better This Saturday In AAU

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Valery Brumel, Russia's wild-child high jumper, was full of apogees Monday.

"I'm sorry," he told the weekly meeting of the New York track Writers Association, "that I didn't do better last Friday night in the New York Athletic Club meet."

All he did was clear 7 feet, 3 inches, equalling John Thomas' best indoor jump. This was on his first appearance on boards before a large crowd.

"But," he added, "I hope to do better this Saturday in the National AAU championships. I have been practicing very hard."

Brumel, who won't be 19 years old until April, got off a 7-4 1/2 jump less than a month ago in Leningrad. That's the highest anyone ever has gone. Thomas' official world record is 7-3 1/4.

"I wanted very much to make a good impression on my first appearance here," Brumel added. "I was very nervous because I never had competed in a meet like that before."

"But I wasn't as nervous as I was in the Olympics."

Why, he was asked, did he order the bar to 7-5 after clearing 7-3? Anything over 7-3 would have constituted an indoor record.

"I wanted to do better than my jump in Leningrad," he answered. Now, he has decided, he does not know how high he can go—or for that matter anyone else.

"I think now that I've had a taste of the indoor meet, I will get better results," he volunteered. "But I really don't know how high I can go. It's just keeping trying to jump as high as I can. The best I've ever done in practice was 2.22 meters (a little over 7-3), so my official jumps are my best."
